New Law Reqnires That Names Be Rotated in Every Precinct—The Names of Candidates.

As a result of the peculiar law relating to the printing of the primary ballots, the Democrats and Republicans of Nodaway county will vote next Tuesday, August 6th, with a variety of 240 different kinds of ballots, 120 for both the north and south districts. Each of the precincts of the county will have one or more of each of the 120 kinds of ballots for both tickets, and two men receiving ballots of the same party immediately together will likely have ballots with a totally different arrangement of names. Each ballot will contain all the candidates' names for that particular party, but the arrangement will be different. If the law were the same now as two years ago Mr. Ball would head the list of Democratic candidates for governor on all ballots and Mr. Major would be at the foot, but under the present law each of the candidates are at the top, bottom and all intermediate places an equal number of times.

THE COUNTRY BOYS

ARE TIRED OF BEING TOYED WITH BY COUNTRY GIRLS AND

WILL TURN TO CITY MAIDS

Unless North Missouri Girls Talk Business—This is the Threat Made by Nodaway Farmers.

The following letters were received by this paper from some of the young farmers over the county of marriageable age:

Hopkins, Mo., July 27, 1912.—To The Democrat-Forum: We, the young farmers of Northwest Missouri, would like to become acquainted and correspond with some of Kansas City's or Maryville's beautiful young ladies who would like to become the wives of young farmers.—Northwest Missouri Young Farmers.

Maryville, Mo., July 27, 1912.—To The Democrat-Forum: In yesterday's issue of your paper I noticed the article written to you and signed by N. W. Mo. Girls, condemning Dr. Cutler for trying to form an alliance between the city girls and the lonely young farmers. In the article they (the N. W. Mo. Girls) say that there are enough fair, sweet girls who are capable of caring for all of the good young farmers without the assistance of the tired, discontented "widows," "bachelor girls of doubtful ages," etc., from the cities. If what the N. W. Mo. Girls have written be true, why is it that they treat us young and lonely farmers the way they do? They go with us until they get us to thinking a great deal of them and then when we ask them to settle down in a comfortable little farm home they turn us down flat and say that they are having too good a time to get married. Is that living up to what they have written to you, and is it any wonder then that the lonely farmer will take a city girl who is anxious for a quiet country home and who will be a good, truthful and loving helpmate? Let the N. W. Mo. Girls prove to us that they mean what they have written by rescuing us from the "tired, discontented "widows" and "bachelor girls of doubtful ages," as they term them, from the cities.—A Young and Lonely Farmer Who Believes in Practicing What You Preach.

HAS BUT FEW EQUALS.

Miss Ruth Martin Gaining Recognition as a Pianist, is in Vancouver, B. C.

The following is from the Holton, Kan., Recorder about Miss Ruth Marton, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. S. S. Martin, formerly of Maryville:

The friends of Miss Ruth Martin, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. S. S. Martin, will be glad to hear of her deserved success in Vancouver, B. C. On her return from a very successful concert tour as piano accompanist for Madame Zulissi, one of the world's highest sopranos, she was offered and accepted the position of pipe organist and pianist at one of the largest musical and concert centers in that city. It is one of the best positions in the city and pays one of the highest salaries, it being $50 a week. One of the papers says she has but few equals as a pianist and certainly no superior in that part of the country.

A TRI-COUNTY PICNIC AT BUDD.

About 300 Former Gentry, Nodaway and Andrew Residents Attended.

Former residents of Nodaway, Gentry and Andrew counties now living in Kansas City held their seventh annual picnic at Budd park Saturday afternoon and night, says the Kansas City Star. About three hundred attended.

The program included speeches by Judge E. E. Alshire, Kimbrough Stone, John F. Wade, Floyd E. Jacobs and B. D. Davis. Games were played by the boys and girls while the older persons lived over the old days.

D. E. Bird, secretary of the Nodaway, Gentry and Andrew counties Picnic association, said Saturday that the association in the next year will be joined by residents of Holt, Buchanan and Atchison counties, and it then will be the Nodaway, Gentry, Andrew, Holt, Buchanan and Atchison Counties Picnic association.

FRANK W. M'ALLISTER,

NOTICE TO COMMITTEE

For Maryville Street Fair This Fall as Regards Attractions.

Why go to Omaha and Kansas City, or any other place to find a dog intelligent enough to furnish an attraction for our street fair when Harold Stafford of this city has a dog that can do it.

Buster is his name. And it has only been a short time since his master began teaching him to jump from the top of a ladder on to a canvas that is held for him.

Buster is a little fox terrier and he and his master are chums. He has been taught various cunning tricks, and not once has he received a cut from a switch. He is just petted and coaxed into doing things, and he can now jump from a ladder that has been gradually lengthened to eighteen feet, and it is certainly interesting to watch the little fellow slowly and carefully climb the ladder, with no music whatever to inspire him to heroic deed, and then turn around and carefully fix his little feet and poise his body for the leap. He doesn't jump until he's all ready, either.

If you want to see this really wonderfully little dog perform drive around by the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Stafford, on South Market street, some day and ask to see him.

Left for Liberty.

Mr. and Mrs. Noah Davis left for their home in Liberty, Mo., Monday morning. They have been living among relatives here for the past year while their son, Professor John Davis, who is a member of the faculty of William Jewell college, was taking special work in Chicago university. They were accompanied as far as Kansas City by Mrs. Anna Stauble, who went on to Warrensburg to visit her sister, Mrs. R. E. Heflin, for a month.

Visited Relatives.

Rev. Dr. and Mrs. J. T. Hanna of Bolckow were Sunday guests at the home of Mrs. Hanna, Mrs. J. A. Carmichael, and family, living east of Maryville. Rev. Hanna is pastor of the Baptist church at Bolckow.

NEEDS NO DEFENSE

BOOHER TOO WELL KNOWN TO BE HURT BY ATTACKS, HAS LIVED

MANY YEARS IN DISTRICT

Has Courage of His Convictions and Carried Almost Unanimous Vote of His County Two Years Ago.

(By VanCleve.)

Mr. B. C. Biggerstaff of the St. Joseph Gazette campaign manager for B. Raleigh Martin, is still dissatisfied. He now complains because Hon. Chas. F. Booher has been invited to become a delegate to the inter-parliamentary union.

We might suggest to the young campaign manager that a man does not have to be either a moral or a physical coward in order to render service to his country. Charley Booher has never been accused of being either. He has convictions and he has the courage to stand by them. He plays double with no man and has never been known to "bend the pregnant hinges of the knee, that thrift may follow fawning."

Mr. Biggerstaff asserts that he is now a Democrat, which is a proper thing for the manager of a Democratic candidate for congress. He is remembered differently here, and was regarded politically as a lost sheep in Israel, but in the decalogue of Democracy, "while the lamp holds out to burn the vilest sinner may return."

But neither Mr. Biggerstaff nor his Democracy is material to this case. Congress is still in session and Mr. Booher has been unable, up to this time, to take any part in the campaign. He has remained at his post in Washington, unwilling to neglect any public duty to serve his personal welfare. He has allowed an opponent to go about the district making any claim and any charge that pleased his fancy.

As a matter of justice to him, but without his suggestion and without his knowledge, I have referred through these columns briefly to some of his rightful claims upon the people. The articles spoke only of Mr. Booher and his work in congress. The personal habits of Mr. Martin were not discussed, his public record as prosecuting attorney of Nodaway county was not referred to, nor has his career as a lawyer been mentioned. In not one of them is the name of Martin to be found.

Instead of praising Martin, as he has a perfect right to do, his campaign manager replies with a series of unwarranted and untruthful attacks upon Mr. Booher. They are not worth notice in Nodaway county, because Charley Booher has lived in the adjoining county of Andrew for more than forty years, has been our neighbor and has practiced in the courts of this county and throughout the district for as many years perhaps as Mr. Martin's campaign manager has lived, and his record is as clean as the day he began.

Two years ago, with two opponents for the congressional nomination, Mr. Booher received every vote in his home county except thirty-one. A man who can do that needs no defense against the attacks of a recent convert to Democracy, who still gets his bread from a Republican newspaper that will oppose any Democrat nominated.

A Democratic newspaper should not be made the clearing house for Republican campaign material, but the two candidates have made their own records, and if, at this late day, Mr. Martin's manager insists on that sort of campaign, Mr. Booher's friends will welcome a comparison of the records made.

Many More Cars Are to Be Sent—Many More Reports Still Coming in On Wheat.

Sixty-five cars of wheat have been shipped from Nodaway county by Leet & Cook, grain dealers of this city, during the past two weeks. Just think of it, an average of five cars a day. A majority of the cars have been sent from Maryville, but there has been ten cars sent from Elmo and several from other towns by this firm, which is composed of Horace F. Leet and James F. Cook.

Many other cars will be shipped within the next few days.

O. W. Swinford of this city reported Monday that on his farm he had one field of wheat that averaged 34 bushels to the acre, and another field that averaged 42 bushesl to the acre.

But Mr. Swinford is prouder of his rye crop, as it averaged 43½ bushels to the acre.

August King of near Clyde reported 22 acres of wheat threshed on his farm which made 34 bushels per acre and weighed 63 pounds to the bushel. He had twelve acres of oats which made 50 bushels to the acre, and weighed 40 pounds to the bushel, and oats, you know, are fine this year.

BUSY AT CLYDE.

Five Threshing Machines at Work in That Town on the Golden Grain.

Five threshing machines are at work in Clyde Monday, and it's that way in measure all over the county.

That's why the rain is keeping off. So let's not grumble. The wheat and oats must be threshed and this is just the weather for it.

Nodaway county is going to have the biggest crop of wheat yet grown here, and when it's all attended to the rains will come in time to bring on the corn just right. Of course, that will be the way, for the promise is given for seed time and harvest and that promise has not yet failed.

In the Clyde vicinity the average yield of wheat will be 27½ bushel the acre.

D. D. Bagby, southeast of Clyde, was entertaining threshers at his house Monday, who began on his 200 acres of wheat. When they are through with his wheat they will go to Joseph Keefe's farm. Mr. Keefe has 100 acres of wheat. From there they will go to the farm of Steinhause brothers, who have 200 acres in wheat.

A. Teson, living east of Clyde, has just threshed out 443 bushels of oats from his 8-acre oat field.

Stanley R. Ford, Who is Here From Panama Canal Zone, Spoke at the Assembly.

Mr. Ford spoke of the history of the canal, the work as being carried on, the sanitary conditions of the country, the construction, and the value of the canal. The talk was very interesting and instructive and was much enjoyed by the students and faculty.

Miss May Howland went to Bolckow Saturday evening to visit over Sunday at the home of her brother, Harry Howland, and family. Miss Howland was accompanied by two friends, Miss Millie Gryder and Miss Blanche Webb, State Normal students, who also were guests at her brother's home.

DR. J. ADAMS PUFFER.

WILL B. OTWELL.

BISHOP S. C. PARTRIDGE, D. D.

FUNERAL WAS HELD MONDAY.

Body of Mrs. A. L. Nash Taken to Pickering for Burial—Services Held at Christian Church.

The funeral services for Mrs. A. L. Nash, who died at her home in this city Saturday morning, were largely attended at the Christian church, where they were held at 10 o'clock Monday morning. The services were conducted by Rev. J. Arthur Dillinger. The music was furnished by a quartet composed of Mrs. F. P. Robinson, Miss Phyllis Sayler, W. E. Goforth and H. J. Becker.

Mrs. Nash's death is thought due to grief over the death of her son, who died over a year ago.

The body was taken to Pickering, where it was buried in the White Oak cemetery, near the old home of the Nash family, and by the body of her son Out-of-town relatives at the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Pistole and Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Pistole of Hopkins.

MOVING THE MACHINERY.

A. C. Mendenhall Packed His Tools at Hopkins Monday.

J. C. Pistole of Hopkins was in the city Monday, and in talking to a representative of this paper, says that nothing else will be done by the Hopkins citizens as to prospecting for coal or gas, at least at the present time. Mr. Mendenhall, who had the contract for the drilling, was packing his machinery and tools Monday and will send them back to Chanute, Kan. It cost the Hopkins company $2,500 so far as they have gone, and the people feel as if they have struck a good vein of coal. Mr. Mendenhall gave it as his opinion that just as soon as the coal promoters heard of it that efforts would be made to see just how much of a quantity and quality of coal could be had there.

HOME ENDORSEMENT.

Hundreds of Maryville Citizens Can Tell You All About It.

Home endorsement, the public expression of Maryville people, should be evidence beyond dispute for every Maryville reader. Surely the experience of friends and neighbors, cheerfully given by them, will carry more weight than the utterances of strangers residing in faraway places. Read the following:

Mrs. A. Weidman, 403 E. Thompson street, Maryville, Mo., says: "I gladly re-endorse Doan's Kidney Pills and confirm the former testimonials I have given in their praise. I had pains in my kidneys and a dull ache across my back. These troubles were always worse after any change in the weather or when I took cold. I used different remedies with little success and was in despair when I had Doan's Kidney Pills recommended to me. I procured a box at Love's drug store (now Love & Gaugh's drug store) and they were just what my run down system needed. In less than a month I was free from the trouble."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's and take no other.

A Light Shower of Rain.

Maryville and vicinity was visited Sunday afternoon by a little shower of rain. In the southwestern part of the county the rain was a very good one. Hail and some wind are reported at different places in the county.

Every inch one pushes beyond the normal distance of 12 inches after eyefailure begins at 38, means an inch of danger. Ninety-nine persons out of a hundred may do it with safety. You may be the one that can't. The man having the best eyes when old age comes will be the one that heeds this first call for help.

HOPKINS WAS BUSY

SATURDAY, TWO ARRESTS HAVING BEEN MADE BY MARSHALL

BERT MOREHOUSE WAS ONE

The Marshal Had a Hard Time of It to Get Him—The other Case Was for Whipping a Child.

(By Our Staff Correspondent.)

City Marshal Miller of Hopkins was unusually busy Saturday afternoon and evening.

In the afternoon the case of Frank Reeder was called before Police Judge Johnston. Reeder was arrested late Friday night, charged with inhumanly whipping his little 8-year-old girl.

Owing to peculiar circumstances Judge Johnson let Reeder off with a fine of $1 and costs, with the distinct understanding that he was to be more careful of his use of the whip in the future.

Saturday night Marshal Miller and Constable Thompson arrested Bert Morehouse of near Pickering on a warrant issued some time ago, the charge being drunkenness and disorderly conduct. Morehouse, who had been fighting shy of Hopkins since the issue of the warrant, finally succumbed to the charms of the skating rink and had just purchased skates, intending to enjoy the evening to the fullest extent, when the officers arrived.

Suddenly skating lost its charms for Morehouse, and his one aim and desire was to get outdoors to open air. In accomplishing this one aim he let nothing or no one stand in his way. Women, children, men, benches and chairs were knocked aside or climbed over, whichever method seemed easiest and quickest.

Marshal Miller was a close follower, and when out of the crowd the marshal shot in the air, and the pursued man threw up his hands and surrendered.

Before Judge Johnson, Morehouse was placed under bond to appear at a later time.

Several attempts have been made by the young bloods to run Hopkins, but since the election of Marshal Miller several of them have found to their sorrow that they must "be good" when they come to Hopkins, just the same as anywhere else.

J. C. FARRAR DEAD.

Well Known Farmer Died at 1:30 P. M. at His Home, North of Maryville.

Joseph C. Farrar, a well known farmer living north of Maryville, passed away at his home Monday afternoon at 2:15 o'clock, after a fourteen months' illness of stomach trouble. He was 67 years old.

The funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at the family home, five miles north of Maryville, conducted by Rev. W. J. Parvin. Burial in Oak Hill cemetery, north of the city.

Mr. Wells is Better.

Uncle Charley Wells, who was thought fatally injured in a runaway Friday morning, regained consciousness Monday morning, having remained in an unconscious state for sixty hours. His son, Dr. J. A. Wells of Shawnee, Okla., arrived Sunday night and his father recognized him Monday morning when he called on him at the hospital. Mr. Wells also recognized his physicians, Dr. F. M. Martin and Dr. G. A. Nash, and answered their questions rationally. His general condition is very satisfactory to his physicians, and if nothing unusual occurs in the case, they think he may recover, notwithstanding his seventy-eight years.

Will Be Operated On.

Miss Cecil VanStein, a State Normal student, who was taken ill of appendicitis a few days ago at the home of Mrs. John Frazee, of East Fourth street, will be operated on Tuesday morning at St. Francis hospital. Miss VanStein's mother from Dawn, Mo., arrived Sunday to care for her.

BIG LINER CUT COLLIER IN TWO

Seven Hundred Passengers on Empress of Britain in Panic.

SMALLER VESSEL SUNK RAPIDLY

Helvetia's Crew Saved—Mails for Europe Transferred and Disabled Steamer Turns Back to Port.

Montreal, July 29.—The Canadian Pacific railway steamship Empress of Britain, outward bound, collided with the collier Helvetia, in a dense fog in the St. Lawrence estuary.

The collier was sunk, but its crew was rescued. The Empress was damaged severely and turned back for Quebec, where it is expected to arrive late at night.

The Empress sailed from Quebec Friday night with 700 passengers for Europe. The Helvetia was bound from Sydney for Montreal with a cargo of 8,000 tons of coal.

News Was Delayed.

The collision occurred about ten miles west of Fame Point, a lighthouse station on the southern shore of the St. Lawrence river, near where it empties into the Gulf of St. Lawrence. This is 300 miles from Quebec.

Although the accident occurred at 4:45 o'clock in the afternoon, definite news was not received until Capt. Murray of the Empress reported to the authorities here and Quebec that his vessel was badly stove in about the bows and its fore compartments were filled with water.

It was believed, however, that the vessel was in no danger of sinking. Both the wrecking steamer Lord Strathcona and a Canadian Pacific tug hastened to meet it.

Struck Amidships.

It is understood that the Empress struck the Helvetia amidships, cutting the collier squarely in two. The small vessel sank almost immediately, but there was quick work aboard the liner and rescue of all hands was speedily effected.

The passengers on the steamer were awakened by the collision and many rushed to the deck in fear, but a panic was averted.

At 5 o'clock in the afternoon the damaged liner had reached Father Point, making slow progress up the St. Lawrence.

The Allan liner Pretorian was standing by at that hour and some of the passengers and the mails were being transferred to that vessel.

ENGLAND WILL SEEK CHURCH AID

Roman Catholics to be Asked for Extension of Missions in Peru Rubber Country.

Washington, July 29.—In the hope of alleviating conditions among the Peru Indians in the Putumaya rubber country, the British government has concluded to aid the extension of the Roman Catholic church in that section.

As the laws of Peru forbid the operation of missionaries of any other denomination the British view is that only through that agency can the welfare of the natives be safeguarded.

Overtures have been made to the pope, and if he is willing to sanction extension of Catholic missions in that part of Peru, efforts will be made to obtain, through popular subscription sufficient funds. There are already some Catholic missions in the rubber country, but they are operating at great disadvantage and in a limited way.

CALHOUN'S TROUBLES MULTIPLY

Cleveland Street Railway Magnate Now Sued for $64,000 Balance on $100,000 Note.

Cleveland, July 29.—The troubles of Patrick Calhoun, street railway magnate, who is in California, appear to be cumulative. Suit for $64,000 has just been filed against him by the Union National bank. That is a balance on promissory notes for $100,000 indorsed by Calhoun for the Euclid Heights Realty company.

Several days ago a marshal of Ottingham, the suburb where Calhoun lives, was installed in the house on a legal process issued in conjunction with the claim for $7,910.83, held by John Grant and son.

Fought Over a Dying Girl.

Cleveland, July 29.—John Danda fought with eight policemen to prevent their taking his daughter, Rosie, five years old, to a hospital after she had been run down and crushed by a moving van, driven by Andrew Linney. Rosie was finally taken away, while policemen held Danda and later she died in the hospital. Linney was arrested on a charge of manslaughter.

Call Irrigation Congress.

Salt Lake City, July 29.—The official call for the twentieth annual National Irrigation congress, to be held at Salt Lake City, September 30 to October 3, inclusive, was issued by Francis G. Newlands, president of the organization. It was in this city that the first irrigation congress meeting was held, in September, 1891.

SENATE REDUCES DUTY ON SUGAR

Lodge-Bristow Bill Passed With But Three Dissenting Votes.

CUTS SLICE FROM TRUST PROFIT

"Dutch Standard" Eliminated—Cuban Tariff 20 Per Cent Less—Change Expected to Save Consumers $25,000,000 Annually.

Washington, July 29.—With only three senators dissenting, the Lodge-Bristow bill, reducing the duty on sugar, passed the senate by a vote of 52 to 3. Those who opposed the bill were Senators Foster and Thornton, of Louisiana, Democrats, and Heyburn of Idaho, Republican.

The two Louisiana senators opposed the measure on the ground that it seriously affected a home industry.

Under the terms of the bill adopted and which Senator Burton stated in the course of the debate that the president would approve, the duty on pure sugar is reduced from $1.90 a hundred pounds, as in the present law to $1.60.

Cost to Trust.

The differential, which has given the trust seven and one-half cents on every hundred pounds of sugar as a bonus, is eliminated, as also is the Dutch standard, under which the trust has been enabled to compel every pound of light colored sugar imported to pay the same duty as refined.

The net saving to the consumer may not be visible in these figures but it is argued that the bill will very materially reduce the enormous profits of the sugar trust in the future.

There is a concession of 20 per cent on sugars imported from Cuba. Senator Bristow, after the bill had been passed, pointed out that the bulk of all sugars imported come from this island which will bring the rate on Cuban sugars down to about $1.20 per hundred pounds.

People Will Gain.

Careful computations based upon the importations of 1911 show that a loss in revenue of approximately $5,500,000 per year will result through these reduced rates, but Senator Bristow asserts that the American consumer will save more than $25,000,000 annually.

The elimination of the Dutch standard has long been fought for. Under that provision, no matter how pure a brown sugar might be, the Dutch color standard was what it was measured by and the refiners got hold of it for purposes of refining. Under the proposed law all sugars will pay duty on their absolute purity and the light browns of high purity, so common years ago, probably will again be found in the market.

FARMERS TO ABANDON WHEAT

Growers in Central Kansas Declare Crop Does Not Pay—Will Raise Corn Instead.

Salina, Kan., July 29.—That there will be less wheat grown in the central Kansas counties hereafter is the declaration of several of the larger wheat growers of this county. They say that it costs too much to raise wheat for the price they get for it, while corn is the crop that pays the best profit.

Wheat is selling on the local market for 77 cents, while corn is 78 cents.

Fred Warnow, one of the big wheat growers of this county declares that wheat is not worth the trouble. It is expensive to seed the crop, the harvest comes in the hottest season of the year and he says is really a burden.

Several other of the large wheat growers have expressed themselves in the same manner, and the prediction is that about one-fourth less ground will be sown to wheat this year than last.

FIRE DESTROYED PEACH SHEDS

Sixty-Five Carloads of Crates and 1,000 Trees Loaded With Fruit Also Burned.

Guthrie, Ok., July 29.—Fire destroyed the big peach sheds and 65 carloads of packing crates on the Frank Householder peach farm.

The fire appears to have been of incendiary origin. Householder has an estimated peach crop of 100 cars and the fire may cause an additional big loss because of inability to get other crates in time.

One thousand peach trees heavily laden with fruit were also ruined. There was no insurance.

Rebels Drive Out Americans.

El Paso, Tex., July 29.—Americans in Northern Mexico have been officially notified by rebel commanders to give up their arms and leave the country. The alterative is to join the rebel ranks. Refugees from the Mormon colonies in Chihuahua are flocking to the border.

His Life for the Mikado.

Tokio, July 29.—The body of a young man was found in the outer palace park at dawn. A letter in his pocket stated that he offered his life for the emperor. An autopsy disclosed that he had taken poison.

FAVORS TRUST REGULATION

MINORITY STEEL REPORT TO BE SUBMITTED TO HOUSE.

Approves Prevention of Interlocking Directorates and Declares Labor Conditions in Mills Bad.

Washington, July 29.—A recommendation favoring the legalization and regulation of big industrial concerns, instead of their dissolution, is to be submitted to the house in a report by three members of the steel investigating committee. The report was signed by Gardner of Massachusetts, Young of Michigan and Danforth of New York. Representative Sterling of Illinois will submit a separate report.

The report favors the creation of an interstate commission of industry to be clothed with power to fix reasonable prices for the output of corporations.

The report would require that all corporations capitalized at $50,000,000 or more operate under a charter to be issued by the United States, before engaging in interstate commerce and commends the work of the bureau of corporations.

It also approves the so-called Brandeis bill, which would transfer the burden of proof to defendant corporations to show that they are in "reasonable" restraint of trade. It approves the measures calculated to prevent interlocking directorates.

The report does not spare the steel trust or its organizers. J. P. Morgan & Co. are credited with a profit of $62,500,000 for underwriting the organization of the United States Steel Corporation. Labor conditions in the steel mills are declared to be bad and a suggestion made to the corporation to improve them by working mill hands in eight instead of 12-hour shifts.

GRAFTERS TO ASK RE-ELECTION

Nine Aldermen Under Arrest at Detroit Remain on Primary Ticket —Schreiter Out on Bail.

Detroit, July 29.—All of the nine aldermen under arrest on the charge of accepting money for their votes in a street closing case will go before their constituents for re-election according to the list of primary candidates just completed. Alderman Glinnan and Alderman Rosenthal, out on $5,000 bail each, filed their petitions.

The effect of the alleged graft disclosures on the filing of primary petitions was evident, when shortly after the arrests were made, a rush to the city clerk's office of previously unheralded aldermanic candidates developed.

By direction of the assistant prosecuting attorney, Mr. Jaanowski, the safe in the office of Edward Schreiter, council committee clerk, was forced open. The detectives who worked up the graft cases allege that Schreiter was the leader in arranging for the payment of the bribe money. It is said that he had refused to open his safe for the inspection of the officers, so an expert was called in who accomplished the task.

Schreiter was released on bail and he will be arraigned with the nine aldermen some time on Tuesday.

ROBBER BROKE HIS KNIFE BLADE

St. Joseph Man Confessed to Burglary When Evidence Was Found On Him.

St. Joseph, Mo., July 29.—The point of a knife blade, broken off when he used it to pry open a window in the Patee Market house, which he robbed several months ago has just caused the arrest of James Pugh.

For weeks the police have been watching the belongings of men brought into headquarters in an effort to find the knife to which the blade belonged.

Pugh was released from the county jail after serving a sentence for petty larceny. The police picked him up because they wanted to ask him a few questions. When he was searched the long sought for knife was found in his pocket. Then Pugh broke down and confessed not only to the market house robbery, but also to number of other burglaries.

Farmer Hanged Himself.

Springfield, Mo., July 29.—John Hugh Hutchinson, 65 years old, a retired farmer living two miles east of Brookline, this county, committed suicide by hanging himself. Ill health and the death of his wife a few months ago is believed to have unbalanced his mind. Six children and two sisters survive him. He was a brother-in-law of Judge W. H. Perkins of the Greene county court.

Six Ohio Motorists Killed.

Toledo, O., July 29.—With a crash that could be heard a mile, six persons were killed, two were probably fatally injured, and another hurt when a Lake Shore & Michigan Southern train struck a motor car containing nine persons at Alexis, about 12 miles from here. The accident happened on a grade crossing where the view of the track was obscured by a corn field.

Olathe Chautauqua Opens.

Olathe, Kan., July 29.—Olathe's third Chautauqua opened with a lecture by ex-Gov. Richard Yates of Illinois, son of the war governor of Illinois and United States senator. More than 1,500 were present. The Chautauqua will continue for ten days.

FIVE BALLOONS HAVE LANDED

Two Contestants for Place in International Event Still in Air.

KANSAS CITY II WENT 646 MILES

Winners Will Represent This Country in Germany—Uncle Sam and Million Population Club I Not Heard From.

Balloons Landed.

Kansas City II, 5 p. m., Belleville, Mich., 646 miles.

Drifter, 4:30 p. m., Calhoun, Wis., 425 miles.

Million Population Club II, 8:35 a. m., Spring Green, Wis., 375 miles.

Goodyear, 5 a. m., Polo, Ill., 343 miles.

Cole, 3 a. m., McGregory, Ia., 225 miles.

Still Flying.

The Uncle Sam, Kansas City entry, Capt. H. E. Honeywell, pilot.

Million Population Club I, St. Louis entry, Capt., John Berry, pilot.

Kansas City, July 29.—Drifting through the upper strata of the atmosphere, borne on the wings of a strong northeastern air current, seven huge gas bags, piloted by the pick of the country's aeranauts started toward Canada and the Great Lakes.

As he sits in his little wicker basket each pilot has only one desire—to travel the greatest distance from Kansas City, or, failing in this, to at least be one of the three winners who will have the honor of representing this country in the international race to be held in Germany this fall.

Thousands Saw Start.

The start from the balloon grounds on the river front was an auspicious one. More than 10,000 persons watched the balloons swing gracefully upward into the air gradually disappear in the haze that hung over the clay county hills.

Not an accident marred the start although the hearts of many rose in their throats when the pilot balloon Kansas City III, carrying as passengers Dr. Milo S. Hartman and his bride of three minutes, who was Miss Violet B. Davis, dropped rapidly out of sight when over the middle of the Missouri river but the bag again ascended, and everyone breathed easier.

The St. Louis IV, which was to have been piloted by William Assman, was not permitted to leave the ground because of several holes in the envelope.

How they occurred is a profound mystery. One theory is that the envelope was too weak to hold the gas but it is also believed by some that there is some connection between the holes and two shots that were fired from the high clay bluff south of the field. Many persons heard the shots at the time, but thought nothing of them until two holes were discovered on the south side of the bag.

One North of Lake Michigan.

Every chance of the hazardous game of balloon flying seems to be in favor of Kansas City having two entries in the international races to be held from Stuttgart, Germany, October 5.

At 5 o'clock the Kansas City II, landed on account of failing gas supply at Belleville, Mich., 646 miles from Kansas City, thus winning a place in the international races. Belleville is 24 miles from Detroit.

Capt. Berry in the Million Population Club I, is lost somewhere in the sky in northern Minnesota, it is believed. Capt., Honeywell, in the Uncle Sam, which was Kansas City's best entry, has not been heard from and is believed to be north of Lake Michigan.

MOB WHIPPED MISSOURI NEGRO

Beaten Until Unconscious for Alleged Turkey Stealing, After Being Dragged From House.

Rayville, Mo., July 29.—A party of masked men entered the home of George Johnson, a negro farmer southwest of Rayville and he was tied with a rope and dragged to the county road several hundred yards away, where he was bound to a telephone pole and severely beaten with heavy switches about the limbs and body.

Johnson was unconscious after the beating, but says he received between 20 and 30 lashes with the whips and that there were ten or 12 men. They told him he was accused of stealing turkeys from the neighbors along the road. The negro was unable to recognize any of his assailants.

Indignant Over Horsewhipping.

Macon, Ga., July 29.—The people of Terrill county are indignant over the recent horsewhipping of Essie Carter, by William Dozier, clerk of the superior court. Petitions are being circulated asking him to resign. If he refuses an independent ticket will be put in the field.

Claude Allen Must Die.

Wytheville, Va., July 29.—Claude Allen, one of the Hillsville outlaws, was convicted of murder in the first degree for the killing of William M. Foster, commonwealth attorney. Claude Allen is the second one of the Allen clan to be convicted.

At Chickasha 109.

Chickasha, Ok., July 29.—All heat records for 1912 were broken in this city when the temperature reached 109. Corn is burning up and alfalfa is suffering.

Hot Weather Circulation Facts.....

The hot season of the year is recognized by newspaper men generally as the hardest time of all on circulation figures. Many reasons are given—farmers too busy to read, people have no money until harvest, no one going to spend money until crops are a certainty, and others of like nature. So generally is this theory accepted that many papers are forced to offer prizes, put on contests and resort to other extraordinary means to even maintain their circulation and keep it from dwindling. Without resorting to any of these means the Democrat-Forum list is growing every day and the Daily circulation now is over 300 larger than it was a year ago.

The Daily Average for the First Twenty Days in July is

2215½

During the month to date the names of over 50 new subscribers have been added to our mailing lists. Over 90 per cent of the increase in circulation is in Nodaway county—in the trade territory of Maryville merchants. Here are the monthly averages for a year past:

PRESSURE IN OCEAN DEPTHS

Enormous Force That It Would Seem Nothing Could Be Able to Resist.

An implosion, as the term indicates, is the direct opposite of an explosion. The conditions most favorable for the production of an implosion exist at great depth in the sea. At 2,500 fathoms the pressure is, roughly speaking, about two and a half tons to the square inch, a pressure that is several time greater than that exerted by steam upon the piston of a powerful engine.

An interesting illustration of the enormous force of this deep-sea pressure was afforded on one occasion when a government vessel was engaged in marine exploration. A thick glass tube several inches in length and full of air was hermetically sealed at both ends, wrapped in flannel and placed in one of the wide copper cylinders employed to protect deep-sea thermometers when they are sent down with the sounding apparatus. Holes were bored in this cylinder so that water might have free access to the interior round the glass. The case was then lowered to a depth of 2,000 fathoms and drawn up again.

The cylinder was bulged and bent inward, just as if it had been crumpled inward by a violent squeeze. The glass tube itself, within the flannel wrapper, was reduced to a fine powder. The tube, it would seem as it slowly descended into the depths, held out long against the pressure, but at last suddenly gave way, and so was crushed by the violence of the action to a fine powder.

Azores.

Trade conditions in the Azores are peculiar. The islands are small, and at best only a limited business can be done. As to lumber or timber, all of which is from the United States, the islands are supplied principally from cargoes of wrecked and damaged vessels. At least for the past four years this has prevailed, and during the first two weeks of January more than 150,000 feet of timber were discharged from a large steamer that encountered hurricane weather on its way from Mississippi to Europe and put into St. Michaels dismasted and with part of the deck load gone. To effect temporary repairs and permit the vessel to proceed the deck load was discharged and was sold at the low price of 2 cents per foot.—Consul Edward A. Creevey, St. Michaels.

PICTURE FRAMING at Crane's

BOUND TO EXERT INFLUENCE

Effects of the Passion of Sympathy, No Matter on What Object It Is Lavished.

It is by the passion of sympathy that we enter into the concerns of others; that we are moved as they are moved, and are never suffered to be indifferent spectators of almost anything which men can do or suffer. For sympathy must be considered as a sort of substitution, by which we are put into the place of another man, and affected in a good measure as he is affected; so that this passion may either partake of the nature of those which regard self-preservation, and turning upon pain may be a source of the sublime; or it may turn upon ideas of pleasure, and then, whatever has been said of the social affections, whether they regard society in general, or only some particular modes of it, may be applicable here.

It is by this principle chiefly that poetry, painting and other affecting arts transfuse their passion from one breast to another, and are often capable of grafting a delight on wretchedness, misery and death itself. It is a common observation that objects in the reality which would shock, are, in tragical and such like representations, the source of a very high species of pleasure. This, taken as a fact, has been the cause of much reasoning. This satisfaction has been commonly attributed, first, to the comfort we receive in considering that so melancholy a story is no more than a fiction; and next, the contemplation of our own freedom from evils we see represented. I am afraid it is a practice much too common, in inquiries of this nature, to attribute the cause of feelings which merely arise from the mechanical structures of our bodies, or from the natural from or constitution of our minds, to certain conclusions of the reasoning faculty on the objects presented to us; for I have some reason to apprehend that the influence of reason in producing our passions is nothing near so extensive as is commonly believed.—Edmund Burke.

To Study Resuscitation Effects.

The American Medical association is to make a study of methods of resuscitation from electric shocks. Many eminent physicians and electrical engineers are to co-operate in the investigation, which it is hoped will have important practical results.

Immense Floating Drydocks.

A floating drydock with a lifting capacity of thirty thousand tons has been built for the British admiralty.

Mount Pelee Eruption.

It will never be known how many human lives were lost in the Pelee eruption. It is generally understood that between 40,000 and 60,000 people perished. Mount Pelee was a volcano of some 5,000 feet, great masses of which were thrown suddenly upon the surrounding people in a semi-fluid condition. Escape was impossible, and so great was the force of the eruption that ships lying in the contiguous waters were almost swamped by the concussion of the air waves. Of the total number lost only 3,000 or 4,000 were white people.

Value of a Chevalier.

A Parisian court has just decided as to "the value" of a chevalier of the Legion or Honor. Injured in the Avenue de l'Opera by an automobile, a former dealer in merchandise, decorated with the Legion of Honor, died in 1911, following the accident. His heirs brought suit for damages against the chauffeur and the owner of the auto. Maitre Gondinet, the advocate of the owner of the auto, maintained that the ex-dealer in merchandise, old and without occupation, furnished no material to his heirs for damages. Maitre Nogueres, the advocate for the plaintiffs, said he had no difficulty in recognizing the damage, though unable to produce any document to establish it, and that Maitre Gondinet for the defense was himself a member of the Legion of Honor and in default of any other evidence that itself was an indication of value to the heirs. The court held with Maitre Nogueres and allowed 25,000 francs damages to the heirs of the former chevalier of the Legion of Honor.

"A Pig in a Poke."

A pig poker is a dealer in pigs—not the large and portly fellow whom you meet now and again at the country market with a cargo of a hundred or more pigs of all ages, shapes and sizes for sale, but a little man, who for the most part carries his wares upon his back, or occasionally perhaps in a wheelbarrow. A "poke" of course is a pocket or sack, and a pig poker therefore is one who deals in pigs carried round from place to place in a poke. The old proverb anent the foolishness of "buying a pig in a poke" has its origin of course in this time-honored method of pig purveying.—London Globe.

AUTOGRAPH TELLS A TALE

Character of the Kaiser Revealed to Expert by Close Analysis of His Signature.

There is always a certain amount of interest attached to the deductions drawn by graphologists from the signatures of eminent men. Here, for example, is an illuminating description of the kaiser's autograph, supplied by an eminent Berlin graphologist:

"To begin with, there is a crochet, a sign of pertinacity, followed by a vertical dash, showing audacity, energy, regardless of any obstacle. Then there is an acute angle, a sign of firmness and aggressiveness. The first stroke of the 'W' indicates a feeling of superiority over the rest of the universe. The termination of the imperial 'W' suggests that the sovereign sometimes finds himself struggling with the multitude of his thoughts, or the power of his instincts.

"The other letters forming the signature show similar characteristics," the graphologist proceeds. "The final 'm' is indicative of great diplomacy, which to the analyist suggests subtlety. The letter also suggests the impossibility of the suppression of the 'ego.' The flourish which terminates the imperial autograph shows a suppleness of spirit, a desire to be loved, also self-esteem.

"The two terminating points indicate defiance and generally the characteristics are those of an extraordinary imagination."

Composite Work.

Throughout the ten years of their existence the Leggitt twins had invariably shared joys, clothes, and gifts of candy or toys. Apparently their mother, the brisk and capable guardian of seven half-orphans, never thought of them separately.

"What are you planning to do this afternoon, Martha?" asked a visiting aunt, who had witnessed a strenuous morning. "Rest, I hope."

"Rest!" said Mrs. Leggett, in a tone of scorn. "I guess not! "I've got to take the twins to the dentist to have that tooth out, and then to the oculist to get a pair of glasses fitted, and then to the shoemaker's to see if he can stretch one of their boots so they can wear it without making such a fuss and saying it hurts every time they put it on."—Youth's Companion.

"Do you believe that poverty is comparative?"

"It must be when a girl complains that she cannot afford to have more than one diamond necklace for all costumes."

PUTS BLAME ON PUBLISHERS

Scholar Points Out How They Are Responsible for Literature in "Cold Storage."

Publishers complain that people do not buy serious books. An experienced scholar retorts that publishers will not let them. Here is a new and rather important historical work of six hundred pages. It is printed in large type on heavy paper, with wide margins, to make is as bulky as possible. The price is $5, "postage extra." This is considerable money; but there are some eight hundred public and collegiate libraries that feel bound to buy any new historical work which can claim importance, no matter what the price.

The publisher would rather have the sure thing of eight hundred copies at $5 than take the chance of selling several thousand copies at $2. Theoretically, books in the library circulate; but it is notorious that people seldom go to a library for a new serious book. A reader whose habits or tastes would attract him to a new biography, say, wants the volumes on his shelves. If it is really worth the trouble of reading he will almost certainly wish to refer to it again. He cannot trot down to the library for every reference. A reader of such habits or tastes wishes to possess the books in which he is really interested. If he cannot afford to own the book he probably will not read it at all. What circulates from the library, besides fiction, is Taine's English Literature, Macaulay's England, Gibbon's Decline and Fall, Boswell's Johnson.

It is clear consequently that a large part of our new serious literature is automatically canned and moved into cold storage, and so there is a world of pains and expense for nothing!—Saturday Evening Post.

Elephant Most Intelligent.

The elephant is by a long shot the most intelligent animal under man. Some horses know a great deal, some dogs are exceedingly bright, but for real sound sense and all-around long-headedness the elephant heads the list. He is not only bright, he is a deep thinker and profound philosopher, and has been known to do things that apparently required nothing less than human intelligence. Read the books that have to do with animal intelligence, with the wonderful things that our dumb fellow-beings have done, and while you will find much to the credit of the dog, horse and other animals, you will be impressed with the fact that, next to man, the brain-power of the elephant is the greatest among them all.

Sally's Demise

By John Philip Orth

(Copyright, 1912, by Associated Literary Press.)

The Oak Grove farm, one of the best in the county, was owned and run by the widow Baines. The farmers around couldn't criticise her farming, but they shook their heads over the fact that she "dressed up" every afternoon and had callers now and then from the village, six miles away. She also had a top-buggy and silver-plated knives and forks, and she had the best windmill for miles around.

These things were only criticised, but when it was known that the widow had sent her daughter east to a seminary to be educated and polished up there were men and women that stood aghast. Miss Minnie could read, write and cipher, and what more education was needed? She ate with her fork, and she knew how to behave at a party, and what was the use of any more polish?

At eighteen Miss Minnie was back home. She wasn't snobbish, but it was plain that she preferred the village people, and there was hardly a day that calls were not being exchanged. It was this state of affairs that brought young Dick Redfern, the merchant's son, out to the farm. The widow's daughter looked good to him. Folks said it ought to make a match, and no one was surprised, after the lapse of a few months, to hear of the engagement.

"He's just the best fellow in the world," was the girl's assertion after telling her mother the secret.

"I never could have found another such girl," was what young Redfern added as he told his father of the engagement.

The engagement took place in August, and the wedding was set for Thanksgiving day. There's a queer thing about these engagements. As soon as they are made the man in the case wants to be boss. He is as humble as pie up to that time, but at almost a day's notice there is a change. And the change is not altogether in him. The girl sees that he wants to boss the roost, and she resents it, and there are quarrels where before all was serene.

A week after the engagement the widow took on a new hired man. He was a student trying to work his way through college by hiring to farmers during the vacation. He wasn't anybody to become infatuated with, but the girl treated him with more deference than she showed to the other hands, and she also spoke in his praise to Dick. That settled things, or, rather, unsettled them.

"How do you know that he isn't an escaped convict?" demanded Dick.

"That's foolish."

"I don't like his looks."

"Perhaps he will change them."

"You had no right to ask him to sing with you the other evening, as I heard you did."

"Mother found no fault with me."

"But your mother can be easily deceived."

"And you, who have traveled all over the world, can read human faces like a book!"

Of course there was more crispy conversation, and then Mr. Dick Redfern laid down the law in italics. No more singing—no more praising—no more flirting!

"No man shall boss me until after marriage!" was the reply.

Then the young man had either to cuddle down or take his hat and say goodnight. He took his hat and walked forth as stiffly as a crowbar in trousers, but weakened enough at the gate to call over his shoulder:

"When you change your opinion write me!"

There was the situation—a quarrel over nothing, and one of them must do the marrow-bones act to bring back the turtle doves. Both were in the right and both were in the wrong.

At the end of a fortnight Miss Minnie wrote that she thought both of them had acted precipitately and foolishly, and that the student had finished his work and moved on. She didn't crawfish, but she left an opening for Dick to make a call.

Seeing Farmer Collins, their nearest neighbor, hitching up his team, she stamped her letter and ran over to him and asked him please to drop it in the postoffice when he got to town.

"I'll do it, gal," was his hearty reply. "To Dick Redfern, eh? Dick's a purty fine boy, and I was glad when I heard of the match. Oh, yes, I'll mail your letter."

And then—he didn't. He carried it in the breast pocket of his coat and never thought of it again. Miss Minnie looked for Dick that evening, but she looked in vain. The same next day and evening—the same for a week. Then she was both repentant and indignant. In her repentance she went and in her anger she cried out:

"I was a fool to give him a chance to snub me! Dick Redfern can just go to grass!"

And as the letter hadn't reached Dick he was heaving sighs and calling himself an idiot at the same time. At the end of ten days both lovers heard some interesting news. Gossip had it that Dick was to marry Susy Tompkins and Miss Minnie had promised her hand to Milton Swift. There was nothing in it but gossip, but it made two people very uncomfortable. Both would deny the report about themselves, but not about the other. With a little more encouragement gossip went so far as to set the wedding days and prepare the bridal outfits. The old love was surely off in everybody's opinion.

Then came a day when Farmer Collins took down his best coat again to hunt through the pockets in hopes of finding some tobacco for his pipe. All of a sudden his good wife heard him call out:

"Wall, now, by heck!"

"Joshua, what you swearing for?" was asked.

"I am an old fool!"

"That's no news."

"I orter be kicked by a dozen cows!"

"You may get it if you live long 'nuff."

"Two or three weeks ago Minnie Baines asked me to mail a letter in town for her. Here it is. I forgot all about it."

"Who's it writ to?"

"Dick Redfern."

"My stars! Joshua Collins, you have surely cut a dog in two! As I understand it, they had a little spat about a hired man, and Dick got on his high horse. After a week Minnie wrote that letter to make up. Dick never got it, and now they are both going to marry some one else!"

"By heck and by hen!"

"Swearing won't do any good. You have ruined two lives!"

"Here—gimme the letter!" he exclaimed as he snatched for it; and next minute he was out of the door and running for the widow's house. Miss Minnie sat on the veranda alone, and he held up the letter and said:

"I forgot to mail it!"

"Oh, Uncle Josh," she moaned.

"Yes, went right past the postoffice twice, and, like the old fool I am, clean forgot."

"I'm so sorry."

"Would that 'ere letter have made up the fuss between you?"

"I—I think so."

"Then give it here."

"But, Uncle Josh."

"Gimme the letter!"

With it in his hand he ran for his barnyard, and five minutes later was speeding toward the village on the bare back of his old mare. Six miles there and six back. He made it in a little over one hour, and brought with him word that Dick Redfern would be out within an hour. Dick came, and joy and happiness were shedding their radiance around like a 25-cent electric mantle when in walked Uncle Josh to say:

"Them twelve miles on the gallop was too much for Sally, and she's dead! She was twenty-four years old, however, and I'm an old fool, and if you two folks make up and git married your taters shan't cost you a cent for the next year!"

Country Weekers.

Mayor Crump of Memphis, in a recent address on behalf of children's country week associations, said:

"Astonishing is the ignorance of nature shown by these little, pale, lean slum dwellers. One child, whose knowledge of trees and grass and flowers was derived from the early closing city parks, said, as she gazed with delight on a green rural scene:

"'What time does the country shut up?'

"Another child watched a farm hand digging potatoes, and said:

"'Is this where you keep your potatoes, sir? I should think it would be handier to keep them in bags in the cellar?'

"And I know of a third child to whom a farmer offered a superb ripe peach.

"'Let me pluck this peach for you right off the tree,' he said.

"But the child, a little girl, turned up her nose and answered loftily:

"'No, thank you. I never eat them till they're canned.'"

Making Cheese in Olden Days.

Cheese was made by the old-time farmers in the summer on the cooperative plan by which four cattle owners, owning, say, fourteen milch cows, received all the milk night and morning, according to the daily yield of their little herd. Thus given two families having five cows each, one with three and one with one, supposing that the average yield per cow was the same, in two weeks, two owners would make five cheeses each; one would press three, and one only one cheese, but this one would be as good and as large as any of the rest. —"Nobility of the Trades—The Farmer," Charles Winslow Hall, in National Magazine.

"GALLERY GOD" SPOILED IT

Why Maurice Barrymore Conceived Dislike for His "Heart of Maryland" Part.

All the good stories which the late Maurice Barrymore, father of Ethel, Lionel and John Barrymore, told on himself never have been published and probably never will be. Barrymore was in Kansas City just prior to his final collapse and here is a story he told:

Barrymore was Mrs. Leslie Carter's leading support when that celebrated actress appeared in Belasco's production of "The Heart of Maryland." In the big third act Barrymore, the hero, was in the hands of the designing villain, who had caught him off guard. Two rookies bound Barrymore's hands and the villain, left alone with his prey, taunted the hero. It was Barrymore's "business" to squirm and to wail.

"Oh, if my hands were free," he would repeat several times, as he tried vainly to break the rope which held him fast. The villain would approach and snap his fingers right under Barrymore's nose.

"Loosen my hands, you devil!" Barrymore would exclaim.

One night at this great and exciting moment in the scene Barrymore had just finished his dare to the villain to loosen his hands when the traditional gallery god yelled out in sharp, clear voice:

"Why don't you kick him in the shins, Barry; your feet ain't tied."

Barrymore cursed the part from that moment until his dying day.

SLEDS USED IN THE YUKON

Not Constructed Along Lines of Beauty, but for Hard Work They Are Perfection.

The Yukon sled, while not a thing of beauty, is built to stand all kinds of hard wear, or, as the Irishman said, "It will last forever, and after that can be used for firewood." The sled is about eight feet long, is made of any kind of hard wood, lies close to the ground, costs from $10 to $14, and makes a trail sixteen inches in width. Another pattern is known as the basket sleigh, and it is to the Yukon sleigh what a three-masted schooner is to a coal barge. In length it is from eight to fifteen feet, is made of birch, oak or hickory, cuts a trail twenty-two inches in width, costs from $40 to $200, is raised a foot or more from the runners, and, in the best examples, is lashed together with rawhide. The basket sleigh, as its name implies, is fitted with a basket, into which the load is placed, and from the back of the basket a pair of handles project, to be used in guiding the sled on the trail. It often happens that a Yukon sled will be fitted with a home-made basket, in imitation of its more aristocratic brother. In very cold weather wooden runners are best, but in ordinary circumstances steel or brass runners are used.—Wide World Magazine.

Delicate Scales.

In the personal laboratory of Sir William Ramsay, at University college, London, is a new pair of scales so delicately adjusted that they will weigh a seven-millionth part of an ounce. The room is in semi-darkness. So delicate are these wonderful scales that their balance is disturbed by the alteration of temperature caused by the turning on of an electric light at the other end of the room. The operator has to leave them for an hour in darkness—after he has tip-toed from the room so that his footfall should not set up any vibration—and then read them swiftly before any change in the temperature has had time to affect them. The scales, only a few inches long, appears a mere cobweb of glass with its frail supports. It is not made of glass, however, explains Sir William, but of silica, which expands and contracts under the effect of heat far less than glass.

Public Schools.

In antiquity the masses of the people grew up in ignorance of things literary. Public education—the education that exists for the masses of the people—began, practically, with John Calvin's rule in Geneva, from which time popular education had steadily gained ground. The free school system had its beginning in Great Britain, about the year 1780, with Robert Raikes and his Sunday school movement. It was not until 1860, however, that the free public schools began to get itself firmly rooted in the British Isles. In this country from the start the idea of universal education was championed by Jefferson and other leaders among us, and the idea has never ceased to be fundamental with us, as absolutely necessary to the prevention of the liberty on which the government is founded.

Luminous Metal Discovered.

For generations the peasants of Cornwall have handed down a legend that at night there may be seen a faintly luminous metal among the rocks brought from the mines of the county. A British scientist has proved that this story is by no means based on imagination. A specimen of the mineral autunite, which is also found in Wales, was sent to him from Portugal because of its shining character. He finds that it closely resembles artificially prepared salts of uranium, and that its luminosity is due to spontaneous radio-activity. The light it sheds is stronger than that of nitrate of uranium. Upon parting with its water of crystallization the metal loses its luminosity.

THE COUNTRY BOYS

WILL TURN TO CITY MAIDS

Unless North Missouri Girls Talk Business—This is the Threat Made by Nodaway Farmers.

The following letters were received by this paper from some of the young farmers over the county of marriageable age:

Hopkins, Mo., July 27, 1912.—To The Democrat-Forum: We, the young farmers of Northwest Missouri, would like to become acquainted and correspond with some of Kansas City's or Maryville's beautiful young ladies who would like to become the wives of young farmers.—Northwest Missouri Young Farmers.

Maryville, Mo., July 27, 1912.—To The Democrat-Forum: In yesterday's issue of your paper I noticed the article written to you and signed by N. W. Mo. Girls, condemning Dr. Cutler for trying to form an alliance between the city girls and the lonely young farmers. In the article they (the N. W. Mo. Girls) say that there are enough fair, sweet girls who are capable of caring for all of the good young farmers without the assistance of the tired, discontented "widows," "bachelor girls of doubtful ages," etc., from the cities. If what the N. W. Mo. Girls have written be true, why is it that they treat us young and lonely farmers the way they do? They go with us until they get us to thinking a great deal of them and then when we ask them to settle down in a comfortable little farm home they turn us down flat and say that they are having too good a time to get married. Is that living up to what they have written to you, and is it any wonder then that the lonely farmer will take a city girl who is anxious for a quiet country home and who will be a good, truthful and loving helpmate? Let the N. W. Mo. Girls prove to us that they mean what they have written by rescuing us from the "tired, discontented "widows" and "bachelor girls of doubtful ages," as they term them, from the cities.—A Young and Lonely Farmer Who Believes in Practicing What You Preach.

HAS BUT FEW EQUALS.

Miss Ruth Martin Gaining Recognition as a Pianist, is in Vancouver, B. C.

The following is from the Holton, Kan., Recorder about Miss Ruth Marton, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. S. S. Martin, formerly of Maryville:

The friends of Miss Ruth Martin, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. S. S. Martin, will be glad to hear of her deserved success in Vancouver, B. C. On her return from a very successful concert tour as piano accompanist for Madame Zulissi, one of the world's highest sopranos, she was offered and accepted the position of pipe organist and pianist at one of the largest musical and concert centers in that city. It is one of the best positions in the city and pays one of the highest salaries, it being $50 a week. One of the papers says she has but few equals as a pianist and certainly no superior in that part of the country.

A TRI-COUNTY PICNIC AT BUDD.

About 300 Former Gentry, Nodaway and Andrew Residents Attended.

Former residents of Nodaway, Gentry and Andrew counties now living in Kansas City held their seventh annual picnic at Budd park Saturday afternoon and night, says the Kansas City Star. About three hundred attended.

The program included speeches by Judge E. E. Alshire, Kimbrough Stone, John F. Wade, Floyd E. Jacobs and B. D. Davis. Games were played by the boys and girls while the older persons lived over the old days.

D. E. Bird, secretary of the Nodaway, Gentry and Andrew counties Picnic association, said Saturday that the association in the next year will be joined by residents of Holt, Buchanan and Atchison counties, and it then will be the Nodaway, Gentry, Andrew, Holt, Buchanan and Atchison Counties Picnic association.

NOTICE TO COMMITTEE

For Maryville Street Fair This Fall as Regards Attractions.

Why go to Omaha and Kansas City, or any other place to find a dog intelligent enough to furnish an attraction for our street fair when Harold Stafford of this city has a dog that can do it.

Buster is his name. And it has only been a short time since his master began teaching him to jump from the top of a ladder on to a canvas that is held for him.

Buster is a little fox terrier and he and his master are chums. He has been taught various cunning tricks, and not once has he received a cut from a switch. He is just petted and coaxed into doing things, and he can now jump from a ladder that has been gradually lengthened to eighteen feet, and it is certainly interesting to watch the little fellow slowly and carefully climb the ladder, with no music whatever to inspire him to heroic deed, and then turn around and carefully fix his little feet and poise his body for the leap. He doesn't jump until he's all ready, either.

If you want to see this really wonderfully little dog perform drive around by the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Stafford, on South Market street, some day and ask to see him.

Left for Liberty.

Mr. and Mrs. Noah Davis left for their home in Liberty, Mo., Monday morning. They have been living among relatives here for the past year while their son, Professor John Davis, who is a member of the faculty of William Jewell college, was taking special work in Chicago university. They were accompanied as far as Kansas City by Mrs. Anna Stauble, who went on to Warrensburg to visit her sister, Mrs. R. E. Heflin, for a month.

Visited Relatives.

Rev. Dr. and Mrs. J. T. Hanna of Bolckow were Sunday guests at the home of Mrs. Hanna, Mrs. J. A. Carmichael, and family, living east of Maryville. Rev. Hanna is pastor of the Baptist church at Bolckow.

NEEDS NO DEFENSE

BOOHER TOO WELL KNOWN TO BE HURT BY ATTACKS, HAS LIVED

MANY YEARS IN DISTRICT

Has Courage of His Convictions and Carried Almost Unanimous Vote of His County Two Years Ago.

(By VanCleve.)

Mr. B. C. Biggerstaff of the St. Joseph Gazette campaign manager for B. Raleigh Martin, is still dissatisfied. He now complains because Hon. Chas. F. Booher has been invited to become a delegate to the inter-parliamentary union.

We might suggest to the young campaign manager that a man does not have to be either a moral or a physical coward in order to render service to his country. Charley Booher has never been accused of being either. He has convictions and he has the courage to stand by them. He plays double with no man and has never been known to "bend the pregnant hinges of the knee, that thrift may follow fawning."

Mr. Biggerstaff asserts that he is now a Democrat, which is a proper thing for the manager of a Democratic candidate for congress. He is remembered differently here, and was regarded politically as a lost sheep in Israel, but in the decalogue of Democracy, "while the lamp holds out to burn the vilest sinner may return."

But neither Mr. Biggerstaff nor his Democracy is material to this case. Congress is still in session and Mr. Booher has been unable, up to this time, to take any part in the campaign. He has remained at his post in Washington, unwilling to neglect any public duty to serve his personal welfare. He has allowed an opponent to go about the district making any claim and any charge that pleased his fancy.

As a matter of justice to him, but without his suggestion and without his knowledge, I have referred through these columns briefly to some of his rightful claims upon the people. The articles spoke only of Mr. Booher and his work in congress. The personal habits of Mr. Martin were not discussed, his public record as prosecuting attorney of Nodaway county was not referred to, nor has his career as a lawyer been mentioned. In not one of them is the name of Martin to be found.

Instead of praising Martin, as he has a perfect right to do, his campaign manager replies with a series of unwarranted and untruthful attacks upon Mr. Booher. They are not worth notice in Nodaway county, because Charley Booher has lived in the adjoining county of Andrew for more than forty years, has been our neighbor and has practiced in the courts of this county and throughout the district for as many years perhaps as Mr. Martin's campaign manager has lived, and his record is as clean as the day he began.

Two years ago, with two opponents for the congressional nomination, Mr. Booher received every vote in his home county except thirty-one. A man who can do that needs no defense against the attacks of a recent convert to Democracy, who still gets his bread from a Republican newspaper that will oppose any Democrat nominated.

A Democratic newspaper should not be made the clearing house for Republican campaign material, but the two candidates have made their own records, and if, at this late day, Mr. Martin's manager insists on that sort of campaign, Mr. Booher's friends will welcome a comparison of the records made.

65 CARS OF WHEAT

SHIPPED FROM THIS COUNTY BY LEET & COOK, GRAIN DEALERS.

DURING PAST TWO WEEKS

Many More Cars Are to Be Sent—Many More Reports Still Coming in On Wheat.

Sixty-five cars of wheat have been shipped from Nodaway county by Leet & Cook, grain dealers of this city, during the past two weeks. Just think of it, an average of five cars a day. A majority of the cars have been sent from Maryville, but there has been ten cars sent from Elmo and several from other towns by this firm, which is composed of Horace F. Leet and James F. Cook.

Many other cars will be shipped within the next few days.

O. W. Swinford of this city reported Monday that on his farm he had one field of wheat that averaged 34 bushels to the acre, and another field that averaged 42 bushesl to the acre.

But Mr. Swinford is prouder of his rye crop, as it averaged 43½ bushels to the acre.

August King of near Clyde reported 22 acres of wheat threshed on his farm which made 34 bushels per acre and weighed 63 pounds to the bushel. He had twelve acres of oats which made 50 bushels to the acre, and weighed 40 pounds to the bushel, and oats, you know, are fine this year.

BUSY AT CLYDE.

Five Threshing Machines at Work in That Town on the Golden Grain.

Five threshing machines are at work in Clyde Monday, and it's that way in measure all over the county.

That's why the rain is keeping off. So let's not grumble. The wheat and oats must be threshed and this is just the weather for it.

Nodaway county is going to have the biggest crop of wheat yet grown here, and when it's all attended to the rains will come in time to bring on the corn just right. Of course, that will be the way, for the promise is given for seed time and harvest and that promise has not yet failed.

In the Clyde vicinity the average yield of wheat will be 27½ bushels the acre.

D. D. Bagby, southeast of Clyde, was entertaining threshers at his house Monday, who began on his 200 acres of wheat. When they are through with his wheat they will go to Joseph Keefe's farm. Mr. Keefe has 100 acres of wheat. From there they will go to the farm of Steinhause brothers, who have 200 acres in wheat.

A. Teson, living east of Clyde, has just threshed out 443 bushels of oats from his 8-acre oat field.

GAVE A TALK AT THE NORMAL.

Stanley R. Ford, Who is Here From Panama Canal Zone, Spoke at the Assembly.

Stanley R. Ford, who is in Maryville on a visit to his father, Dr. J. S. Ford, gave a talk Monday morning at the Normal assembly on Panama. Mr. Ford has been in that country three years, and is chief clerk of the government printing plant in that country.

Mr. Ford spoke of the history of the canal, the work as being carried on, the sanitary conditions of the country, the construction, and the value of the canal. The talk was very interesting and instructive and was much enjoyed by the students and faculty.

Here From Texas.

Mrs. Burton O'Connell of Fort Worth, Texas, and son arrived a few days since at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Michael M. Callahan, three miles east of Arkoe, and will remain for a two months' visit. This is Baby Jack's first visit to his grandparents.

Guests at Brother's Home.

Miss May Howland went to Bolckow Saturday evening to visit over Sunday at the home of her brother, Harry Howland, and family. Miss Howland was accompanied by two friends, Miss Millie Gryder and Miss Blanche Webb, State Normal students, who also were guests at her brother's home.

Mrs. B. F. Rice and two children went to St. Joseph Saturday evening to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Brown.

Mrs. F. A. McKee of Barnard was in Maryville Saturday afternoon to meet her little niece, Naomi Singrey, who had been on a visit to her aunt; Mrs. J. G. Harbison of near Ravenwood.

FUNERAL WAS HELD MONDAY.

Body of Mrs. A. L. Nash Taken to Pickering for Burial—Services Held at Christian Church.

The funeral services for Mrs. A. L. Nash, who died at her home in this city Saturday morning, were largely attended at the Christian church, where they were held at 10 o'clock Monday morning. The services were conducted by Rev. J. Arthur Dillinger. The music was furnished by a quartet composed of Mrs. F. P. Robinson, Miss Phyllis Sayler, W. E. Goforth and H. J. Becker.

Mrs. Nash's death is thought due to grief over the death of her son, who died over a year ago.

The body was taken to Pickering, where it was buried in the White Oak cemetery, near the old home of the Nash family, and by the body of her son Out-of-town relatives at the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Pistole and Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Pistole of Hopkins.

MOVING THE MACHINERY.

A. C. Mendenhall Packed His Tools at Hopkins Monday.

J. C. Pistole of Hopkins was in the city Monday, and in talking to a representative of this paper, says that nothing else will be done by the Hopkins citizens as to prospecting for coal or gas, at least at the present time. Mr. Mendenhall, who had the contract for the drilling, was packing his machinery and tools Monday and will send them back to Chanute, Kan. It cost the Hopkins company $2,500 so far as they have gone, and the people feel as if they have struck a good vein of coal. Mr. Mendenhall gave it as his opinion that just as soon as the coal promoters heard of it that efforts would be made to see just how much of a quantity and quality of coal could be had there.

HOME ENDORSEMENT.

Hundreds of Maryville Citizens Can Tell You All About It.

Home endorsement, the public expression of Maryville people, should be evidence beyond dispute for every Maryville reader. Surely the experience of friends and neighbors, cheerfully given by them, will carry more weight than the utterances of strangers residing in faraway places. Read the following:

Mrs. A. Weidman, 403 E. Thompson street, Maryville, Mo., says: "I gladly re-endorse Doan's Kidney Pills and confirm the former testimonials I have given in their praise. I had pains in my kidneys and a dull ache across my back. These troubles were always worse after any change in the weather or when I took cold. I used different remedies with little success and was in despair when I had Doan's Kidney Pills recommended to me. I procured a box at Love's drug store (now Love & Gaugh's drug store) and they were just what my run down system needed. In less than a month I was free from the trouble."

HOPKINS WAS BUSY

SATURDAY, TWO ARRESTS HAVING BEEN MADE BY MARSHALL

BERT MOREHOUSE WAS ONE

The Marshal Had a Hard Time of It to Get Him—The other Case Was for Whipping a Child.

(By Our Staff Correspondent.)

City Marshal Miller of Hopkins was unusually busy Saturday afternoon and evening.

In the afternoon the case of Frank Reeder was called before Police Judge Johnston. Reeder was arrested late Friday night, charged with inhumanly whipping his little 8-year-old girl.

Owing to peculiar circumstances Judge Johnson let Reeder off with a fine of $1 and costs, with the distinct understanding that he was to be more careful of his use of the whip in the future.

Saturday night Marshal Miller and Constable Thompson arrested Bert Morehouse of near Pickering on a warrant issued some time ago, the charge being drunkenness and disorderly conduct. Morehouse, who had been fighting shy of Hopkins since the issue of the warrant, finally succumbed to the charms of the skating rink and had just purchased skates, intending to enjoy the evening to the fullest extent, when the officers arrived.

Suddenly skating lost its charms for Morehouse, and his one aim and desire was to get outdoors to open air. In accomplishing this one aim he let nothing or no one stand in his way. Women, children, men, benches and chairs were knocked aside or climbed over, whichever method seemed easiest and quickest.

Marshal Miller was a close follower, and when out of the crowd the marshal shot in the air, and the pursued man threw up his hands and surrendered.

Before Judge Johnson, Morehouse was placed under bond to appear at a later time.

Several attempts have been made by the young bloods to run Hopkins, but since the election of Marshal Miller several of them have found to their sorrow that they must "be good" when they come to Hopkins, just the same as anywhere else.

J. C. FARRAR DEAD.

Well Known Farmer Died at 1:30 P. M. at His Home, North of Maryville.

Joseph C. Farrar, a well known farmer living north of Maryville, passed away at his home Monday afternoon at 2:15 o'clock, after a fourteen months' illness of stomach trouble. He was 67 years old.

The funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at the family home, five miles north of Maryville, conducted by Rev. W. J. Parvin. Burial in Oak Hill cemetery, north of the city.

Mr. Wells is Better.

Uncle Charley Wells, who was thought fatally injured in a runaway Friday morning, regained consciousness Monday morning, having remained in an unconscious state for sixty hours. His son, Dr. J. A. Wells of Shawnee, Okla., arrived Sunday night and his father recognized him Monday morning when he called on him at the hospital. Mr. Wells also recognized his physicians, Dr. F. M. Martin and Dr. G. A. Nash, and answered their questions rationally. His general condition is very satisfactory to his physicians, and if nothing unusual occurs in the case, they think he may recover, notwithstanding his seventy-eight years.

Will Be Operated On.

Miss Cecil VanStein, a State Normal student, who was taken ill of appendicitis a few days ago at the home of Mrs. John Frazee, of East Fourth street, will be operated on Tuesday morning at St. Francis hospital. Miss VanStein's mother from Dawn, Mo., arrived Sunday to care for her.

BIG LINER CUT COLLIER IN TWO

Seven Hundred Passengers on Empress of Britain in Panic.

SMALLER VESSEL SUNK RAPIDLY

Helvetia's Crew Saved—Mails for Europe Transferred and Disabled Steamer Turns Back to Port.

Montreal, July 29.—The Canadian Pacific railway steamship Empress of Britain, outward bound, collided with the collier Helvetia, in a dense fog in the St. Lawrence estuary.

The collier was sunk, but its crew was rescued. The Empress was damaged severely and turned back for Quebec, where it is expected to arrive late at night.

The Empress sailed from Quebec Friday night with 700 passengers for Europe. The Helvetia was bound from Sydney for Montreal with a cargo of 8,000 tons of coal.

News Was Delayed.

The collision occurred about ten miles west of Fame Point, a lighthouse station on the southern shore of the St. Lawrence river, near where it empties into the Gulf of St. Lawrence. This is 300 miles from Quebec.

Although the accident occurred at 4:45 o'clock in the afternoon, definite news was not received until Capt. Murray of the Empress reported to the authorities here and Quebec that his vessel was badly stove in about the bows and its fore compartments were filled with water.

It was believed, however, that the vessel was in no danger of sinking. Both the wrecking steamer Lord Strathcona and a Canadian Pacific tug hastened to meet it.

Struck Amidships.

It is understood that the Empress struck the Helvetia amidships, cutting the collier squarely in two. The small vessel sank almost immediately, but there was quick work aboard the liner and rescue of all hands was speedily effected.

The passengers on the steamer were awakened by the collision and many rushed to the deck in fear, but a panic was averted.

At 5 o'clock in the afternoon the damaged liner had reached Father Point, making slow progress up the St. Lawrence.

The Allan liner Pretorian was standing by at that hour and some of the passengers and the mails were being transferred to that vessel.

ENGLAND WILL SEEK CHURCH AID

Roman Catholics to be Asked for Extension of Missions in Peru Rubber Country.

Washington, July 29.—In the hope of alleviating conditions among the Peru Indians in the Putumaya rubber country, the British government has concluded to aid the extension of the Roman Catholic church in that section.

As the laws of Peru forbid the operation of missionaries of any other denomination the British view is that only through that agency can the welfare of the natives be safeguarded.

Overtures have been made to the pope, and if he is willing to sanction extension of Catholic missions in that part of Peru, efforts will be made to obtain, through popular subscription sufficient funds. There are already some Catholic missions in the rubber country, but they are operating at great disadvantage and in a limited way.

CALHOUN'S TROUBLES MULTIPLY

Cleveland Street Railway Magnate Now Sued for $64,000 Balance on $100,000 Note.

Cleveland, July 29.—The troubles of Patrick Calhoun, street railway magnate, who is in California, appear to be cumulative. Suit for $64,000 has just been filed against him by the Union National bank. That is a balance on promissory notes for $100,000 indorsed by Calhoun for the Euclid Heights Realty company.

Several days ago a marshal of Ottingham, the suburb where Calhoun lives, was installed in the house on a legal process issued in conjunction with the claim for $7,910.83, held by John Grant and son.

Fought Over a Dying Girl.

Cleveland, July 29.—John Danda fought with eight policemen to prevent their taking his daughter, Rosie, five years old, to a hospital after she had been run down and crushed by a moving van, driven by Andrew Linney. Rosie was finally taken away, while policemen held Danda and later she died in the hospital. Linney was arrested on a charge of manslaughter.

Call Irrigation Congress.

Salt Lake City, July 29.—The official call for the twentieth annual National Irrigation congress, to be held at Salt Lake City, September 30 to October 3, inclusive, was issued by Francis G. Newlands, president of the organization. It was in this city that the first irrigation congress meeting was held, in September, 1891.

SENATE REDUCES DUTY ON SUGAR

Lodge-Bristow Bill Passed With But Three Dissenting Votes.

CUTS SLICE FROM TRUST PROFIT

"Dutch Standard" Eliminated—Cuban Tariff 20 Per Cent Less—Change Expected to Save Consumers $25,000,000 Annually.

Washington, July 29.—With only three senators dissenting, the Lodge-Bristow bill, reducing the duty on sugar, passed the senate by a vote of 52 to 3. Those who opposed the bill were Senators Foster and Thornton, of Louisiana, Democrats, and Heyburn of Idaho, Republican.

The two Louisiana senators opposed the measure on the ground that it seriously affected a home industry.

Under the terms of the bill adopted and which Senator Burton stated in the course of the debate that the president would approve, the duty on pure sugar is reduced from $1.90 a hundred pounds, as in the present law to $1.60.

Cost to Trust.

The differential, which has given the trust seven and one-half cents on every hundred pounds of sugar as a bonus, is eliminated, as also is the Dutch standard, under which the trust has been enabled to compel every pound of light colored sugar imported to pay the same duty as refined.

The net saving to the consumer may not be visible in these figures but it is argued that the bill will very materially reduce the enormous profits of the sugar trust in the future.

There is a concession of 20 per cent on sugars imported from Cuba. Senator Bristow, after the bill had been passed, pointed out that the bulk of all sugars imported come from this island which will bring the rate on Cuban sugars down to about $1.20 per hundred pounds.

People Will Gain.

Careful computations based upon the importations of 1911 show that a loss in revenue of approximately $5,500,000 per year will result through these reduced rates, but Senator Bristow asserts that the American consumer will save more than $25,000,000 annually.

The elimination of the Dutch standard has long been fought for. Under that provision, no matter how pure a brown sugar might be, the Dutch color standard was what it was measured by and the refiners got hold of it for purposes of refining. Under the proposed law all sugars will pay duty on their absolute purity and the light browns of high purity, so common years ago, probably will again be found in the market.

FARMERS TO ABANDON WHEAT

Growers in Central Kansas Declare Crop Does Not Pay—Will Raise Corn Instead.

Salina, Kan., July 29.—That there will be less wheat grown in the central Kansas counties hereafter is the declaration of several of the larger wheat growers of this county. They say that it costs too much to raise wheat for the price they get for it, while corn is the crop that pays the best profit.

Wheat is selling on the local market for 77 cents, while corn is 78 cents.

Fred Warnow, one of the big wheat growers of this county declares that wheat is not worth the trouble. It is expensive to seed the crop, the harvest comes in the hottest season of the year and he says is really a burden.

Several other of the large wheat growers have expressed themselves in the same manner, and the prediction is that about one-fourth less ground will be sown to wheat this year than last.

FIRE DESTROYED PEACH SHEDS

Sixty-Five Carloads of Crates and 1,000 Trees Loaded With Fruit Also Burned.

Guthrie, Ok., July 29.—Fire destroyed the big peach sheds and 65 carloads of packing crates on the Frank Householder peach farm.

The fire appears to have been of incendiary origin. Householder has an estimated peach crop of 100 cars and the fire may cause an additional big loss because of inability to get other crates in time.

One thousand peach trees heavily laden with fruit were also ruined. There was no insurance.

Rebels Drive Out Americans.

El Paso, Tex., July 29.—Americans in Northern Mexico have been officially notified by rebel commanders to give up their arms and leave the country. The alterative is to join the rebel ranks. Refugees from the Mormon colonies in Chihuahua are flocking to the border.

His Life for the Mikado.

Tokio, July 29.—The body of a young man was found in the outer palace park at dawn. A letter in his pocket stated that he offered his life for the emperor. An autopsy disclosed that he had taken poison.

FAVORS TRUST REGULATION

MINORITY STEEL REPORT TO BE SUBMITTED TO HOUSE.

Approves Prevention of Interlocking Directorates and Declares Labor Conditions in Mills Bad.

Washington, July 29.—A recommendation favoring the legalization and regulation of big industrial concerns, instead of their dissolution, is to be submitted to the house in a report by three members of the steel investigating committee. The report was signed by Gardner of Massachusetts, Young of Michigan and Danforth of New York. Representative Sterling of Illinois will submit a separate report.

The report favors the creation of an interstate commission of industry to be clothed with power to fix reasonable prices for the output of corporations.

The report would require that all corporations capitalized at $50,000,000 or more operate under a charter to be issued by the United States, before engaging in interstate commerce and commends the work of the bureau of corporations.

It also approves the so-called Brandeis bill, which would transfer the burden of proof to defendant corporations to show that they are in "reasonable" restraint of trade. It approves the measures calculated to prevent interlocking directorates.

The report does not spare the steel trust or its organizers. J. P. Morgan & Co. are credited with a profit of $62,500,000 for underwriting the organization of the United States Steel Corporation. Labor conditions in the steel mills are declared to be bad and a suggestion made to the corporation to improve them by working mill hands in eight instead of 12-hour shifts.

GRAFTERS TO ASK RE-ELECTION

Nine Aldermen Under Arrest at Detroit Remain on Primary Ticket —Schreiter Out on Bail.

Detroit, July 29.—All of the nine aldermen under arrest on the charge of accepting money for their votes in a street closing case will go before their constituents for re-election according to the list of primary candidates just completed. Alderman Glinnan and Alderman Rosenthal, out on $5,000 bail each, filed their petitions.

The effect of the alleged graft disclosures on the filing of primary petitions was evident, when shortly after the arrests were made, a rush to the city clerk's office of previously unheralded aldermanic candidates developed.

By direction of the assistant prosecuting attorney, Mr. Jaanowski, the safe in the office of Edward Schreiter, council committee clerk, was forced open. The detectives who worked up the graft cases allege that Schreiter was the leader in arranging for the payment of the bribe money. It is said that he had refused to open his safe for the inspection of the officers, so an expert was called in who accomplished the task.

Schreiter was released on bail and he will be arraigned with the nine aldermen some time on Tuesday.

ROBBER BROKE HIS KNIFE BLADE

St. Joseph Man Confessed to Burglary When Evidence Was Found On Him.

St. Joseph, Mo., July 29.—The point of a knife blade, broken off when he used it to pry open a window in the Patee Market house, which he robbed several months ago has just caused the arrest of James Pugh.

For weeks the police have been watching the belongings of men brought into headquarters in an effort to find the knife to which the blade belonged.

Pugh was released from the county jail after serving a sentence for petty larceny. The police picked him up because they wanted to ask him a few questions. When he was searched the long sought for knife was found in his pocket. Then Pugh broke down and confessed not only to the market house robbery, but also to number of other burglaries.

Farmer Hanged Himself.

Springfield, Mo., July 29.—John Hugh Hutchinson, 65 years old, a retired farmer living two miles east of Brookline, this county, committed suicide by hanging himself. Ill health and the death of his wife a few months ago is believed to have unbalanced his mind. Six children and two sisters survive him. He was a brother-in-law of Judge W. H. Perkins of the Greene county court.

Six Ohio Motorists Killed.

Toledo, O., July 29.—With a crash that could be heard a mile, six persons were killed, two were probably fatally injured, and another hurt when a Lake Shore & Michigan Southern train struck a motor car containing nine persons at Alexis, about 12 miles from here. The accident happened on a grade crossing where the view of the track was obscured by a corn field.

Olathe Chautauqua Opens.

Olathe, Kan., July 29.—Olathe's third Chautauqua opened with a lecture by ex-Gov. Richard Yates of Illinois, son of the war governor of Illinois and United States senator. More than 1,500 were present. The Chautauqua will continue for ten days.

FIVE BALLOONS HAVE LANDED

Two Contestants for Place in International Event Still in Air.

KANSAS CITY II WENT 646 MILES

Winners Will Represent This Country in Germany—Uncle Sam and Million Population Club I Not Heard From.

Million Population Club II, 8:35 a. m., Spring Green, Wis., 375 miles.

Still Flying.

The Uncle Sam, Kansas City entry, Capt. H. E. Honeywell, pilot.

Million Population Club I, St. Louis entry, Copt., John Berry, pilot.

Kansas City, July 29.—Drifting through the upper strata of the atmosphere, borne on the wings of a strong northeastern air current, seven huge gas bags, piloted by the pick of the country's aeranauts started toward Canada and the Great Lakes.

As he sits in his little wicker basket each pilot has only one desire —to travel the greatest distance from Kansas City, or, failing in this, to at least be one of the three winners who will have the honor of representing this country in the international race to be held in Germany this fall.

Thousands Saw Start.

The start from the balloon grounds on the river front was an auspicious one. More than 10,000 persons watched the balloons swing gracefully upward into the air gradually disappear in the haze that hung over the clay county hills.

Not an accident marred the start although the hearts of many rose in their throats when the pilot balloon Kansas City III, carrying as passengers Dr. Milo S. Hartman and his bride of three minutes, who was Miss Violet B. Davis, dropped rapidly out of sight when over the middle of the Missouri river but the bag again ascended, and everyone breathed easier.

The St. Louis IV, which was to have been piloted by William Assman, was not permitted to leave the ground because of several holes in the envelope.

How they occurred is a profound mystery. One theory is that the envelope was too weak to hold the gas but it is also believed by some that there is some connection between the holes and two shots that were fired from the high clay bluff south of the field. Many persons heard the shots at the time, but thought nothing of them until two holes were discovered on the south side of the bag.

One North of Lake Michigan.

Every chance of the hazardous game of balloon flying seems to be in favor of Kansas City having two entries in the international races to be held from Stuttgart, Germany, October 5.

At 5 o'clock the Kansas City II, landed on account of failing gas supply at Belleville, Mich., 646 miles from Kansas City, thus winning a place in the international races. Belleville is 24 miles from Detroit.

Capt. Berry in the Million Population Club I, is lost somewhere in the sky in northern Minnesota, it is believed. Capt. Honeywell, in the Uncle Sam, which was Kansas City's best entry, has not been heard from and is believed to be north of Lake Michigan.

MOB WHIPPED MISSOURI NEGRO

Beaten Until Unconscious for Alleged Turkey Stealing, After Being Dragged From House.

Rayville, Mo., July 29.—A party of masked men entered the home of George Johnson, a negro farmer southwest of Rayville and he was tied with a rope and dragged to the county road several hundred yards away, where he was bound to a telephone pole and severely beaten with heavy switches about the limbs and body.

Johnson was unconscious after the beating, but says he received between 20 and 30 lashes with the whips and that there were ten or 12 men. They told him he was accused of stealing turkeys from the neighbors along the road. The negro was unable to recognize any of his assailants.

Indignant Over Horsewhipping.

Macon, Ga., July 29.—The people of Terrill county are indignant over the recent horsewhipping of Essie Carter, by William Dozier, clerk of the superior court. Petitions are being circulated asking him to resign. If he refuses an independent ticket will be put in the field.

Claude Allen Must Die.

Wytheville, Va., July 29.—Claude Allen, one of the Hillsville outlaws, was convicted of murder in the first degree for the killing of William M. Foster, commonwealth attorney. Claude Allen is the second one of the Allen clan to be convicted.

At Chickasha 109.

Chickasha, Ok., July 29.—All heat records for 1912 were broken in this city when the temperature reached 109. Corn is burning up and alfalfa is suffering.

Hot Weather Circulation Facts.....

The hot season of the year is recognized by newspaper men generally as the hardest time of all on circulation figures. Many reasons are given—farmers too busy to read, people have no money until harvest, no one going to spend money until crops are a certainty, and others of like nature. So generally is this theory accepted that many papers are forced to offer prizes, put on contests and resort to other extraordinary means to even maintain their circulation and keep it from dwindling. Without resorting to any of these means the Democrat-Forum list is growing every day and the Daily circulation now is over 300 larger than it was a year ago.

The Daily Average for the First Twenty Days in July is

2215½

During the month to date the names of over 50 new subscribers have been added to our mailing lists. Over 90 per cent of the increase in circulation is in Nodaway county—in the trade territory of Maryville merchants. Here are the monthly averages for a year past:

PRESSURE IN OCEAN DEPTHS

An implosion, as the term indicates, is the direct opposite of an explosion. The conditions most favorable for the production of an implosion exist at great depth in the sea. At 2,500 fathoms the pressure is, roughly speaking, about two and a half tons to the square inch, a pressure that is several time greater than that exerted by steam upon the piston of a powerful engine.

An interesting illustration of the enormous force of this deep-sea pressure was afforded on one occasion when a government vessel was engaged in marine exploration. A thick glass tube several inches in length and full of air was hermetically sealed at both ends, wrapped in flannel and placed in one of the wide copper cylinders employed to protect deep-sea thermometers when they are sent down with the sounding apparatus. Holes were bored in this cylinder so that water might have free access to the interior round the glass. The case was then lowered to a depth of 2,000 fathoms and drawn up again.

The cylinder was bulged and bent inward, just as if it had been crumpled inward by a violent squeeze. The glass tube itself, within the flannel wrapper, was reduced to a fine powder. The tube, it would seem as it slowly descended into the depths, held out long against the pressure, but at last suddenly gave way, and so was crushed by the violence of the action to a fine powder.

Azores.

Trade conditions in the Azores are peculiar. The islands are small, and at best only a limited business can be done. As to lumber or timber, all of which is from the United States, the islands are supplied principally from cargoes of wrecked and damaged vessels. At least for the past four years this has prevailed, and during the first two weeks of January more than 150,000 feet of timber were discharged from a large steamer that encountered hurricane weather on its way from Mississippi to Europe and put into St. Michaels dismasted and with part of the deck load gone. To effect temporary repairs and permit the vessel to proceed the deck load was discharged and was sold at the low price of 2 cents per foot.—Consul Edward A. Creevey, St. Michaels.

BOUND TO EXERT INFLUENCE

Effects of the Passion of Sympathy, No Matter on What Object It Is Lavished.

It is by the passion of sympathy that we enter into the concerns of others; that we are moved as they are moved, and are never suffered to be indifferent spectators of almost anything which men can do or suffer. For sympathy must be considered as a sort of substitution, by which we are put into the place of another man, and affected in a good measure as he is affected; so that this passion may either partake of the nature of those which regard self-preservation, and turning upon pain may be a source of the sublime; or it may turn upon ideas of pleasure, and then, whatever has been said of the social affections, whether they regard society in general, or only some particular modes of it, may be applicable here.

It is by this principle chiefly that poetry, painting and other affecting arts transfuse their passion from one breast to another, and are often capable of grafting a delight on wretchedness, misery and death itself. It is a common observation that objects in the reality which would shock, are, in tragical and such like representations, the source of a very high species of pleasure. This, taken as a fact, has been the cause of much reasoning. This satisfaction has been commonly attributed, first, to the comfort we receive in considering that so melancholy a story is no more than a fiction; and next, the contemplation of our own freedom from evils we see represented. I am afraid it is a practice much too common, in inquiries of this nature, to attribute the cause of feelings which merely arise from the mechanical structures of our bodies, or from the natural from or constitution of our minds, to certain conclusions of the reasoning faculty on the objects presented to us; for I have some reason to apprehend that the influence of reason in producing our passions is nothing near so extensive as is commonly believed.—Edmund Burke.

Mount Pelee Eruption.

It will never be known how many human lives were lost in the Pelee eruption. It is generally understood that between 40,000 and 60,000 people perished. Mount Pelee was a volcano of some 5,000 feet, great masses of which were thrown suddenly upon the surrounding people in a semi-fluid condition. Escape was impossible, and so great was the force of the eruption that ships lying in the contiguous waters were almost swamped by the concussion of the air waves. Of the total number lost only 3,000 or 4,000 were white people.

Value of a Chevalier.

A Parisian court has just decided as to "the value" of a chevalier of the Legion or Honor. Injured in the Avenue de l'Opera by an automobile, a former dealer in merchandise, decorated with the Legion of Honor, died in 1911, following the accident. His heirs brought suit for damages against the chauffeur and the owner of the auto. Maitre Gondinet, the advocate of the owner of the auto, maintained that the ex-dealer in merchandise, old and without occupation, furnished no material to his heirs for damages. Maitre Nogueres, the advocate for the plaintiffs, said he had no difficulty in recognizing the damage, though unable to produce any document to establish it, and that Maitre Gondinet for the defense was himself a member of the Legion of Honor and in default of any other evidence that itself was an indication of value to the heirs. The court held with Maitre Nogueres and allowed 25,000 francs damages to the heirs of the former chevalier of the Legion of Honor.

"A Pig in a Poke."

A pig poker is a dealer in pigs—not the large and portly fellow whom you meet now and again at the country market with a cargo of a hundred or more pigs of all ages, shapes and sizes for sale, but a little man, who for the most part carries his wares upon his back, or occasionally perhaps in a wheelbarrow. A "poke" of course is a pocket or sack, and a pig poker therefore is one who deals in pigs carried round from place to place in a poke. The old proverb anent the foolishness of "buying a pig in a poke" has its origin of course in this time-honored method of pig purveying.—London Globe.

AUTOGRAPH TELLS A TALE

Character of the Kaiser Revealed to Expert by Close Analysis of His Signature.

There is always a certain amount of interest attached to the deductions drawn by graphologists from the signatures of eminent men. Here, for example, is an illuminating description of the kaiser's autograph, supplied by an eminent Berlin graphologist:

"To begin with, there is a crochet, a sign of pertinacity, followed by a vertical dash, showing audacity, energy, regardless of any obstacle. Then there is an acute angle, a sign of firmness and aggressiveness. The first stroke of the 'W' indicates a feeling of superiority over the rest of the universe. The termination of the imperial 'W' suggests that the sovereign sometimes finds himself struggling with the multitude of his thoughts, or the power of his instincts.

"The other letters forming the signature show similar characteristics," the graphologist proceeds. "The final 'm' is indicative of great diplomacy, which to the analyist suggests subtlety. The letter also suggests the impossibility of the suppression of the 'ego.' The flourish which terminates the imperial autograph shows a suppleness of spirit, a desire to be loved, also self-esteem.

"The two terminating points indicate defiance and generally the characteristics are those of an extraordinary imagination."

Composite Work.

Throughout the ten years of their existence the Leggitt twins had invariably shared joys, clothes, and gifts of candy or toys. Apparently their mother, the brisk and capable guardian of seven half-orphans, never thought of them separately.

"What are you planning to do this afternoon, Martha?" asked a visiting aunt, who had witnessed a strenuous morning. "Rest, I hope."

"Rest!" said Mrs. Leggett, in a tone of scorn. "I guess not! "I've got to take the twins to the dentist to have that tooth out, and then to the oculist to get a pair of glasses fitted, and then to the shoemaker's to see if he can stretch one of their boots so they can wear it without making such a fuss and saying it hurts every time they put it on."—Youth's Companion.

PUTS BLAME ON PUBLISHERS

Scholar Points Out How They Are Responsible for Literature in "Cold Storage."

Publishers complain that people do not buy serious books. An experienced scholar retorts that publishers will not let them. Here is a new and rather important historical work of six hundred pages. It is printed in large type on heavy paper, with wide margins, to make is as bulky as possible. The price is $5, "postage extra." This is considerable money; but there are some eight hundred public and collegiate libraries that feel bound to buy any new historical work which can claim importance, no matter what the price.

The publisher would rather have the sure thing of eight hundred copies at $5 than take the chance of selling several thousand copies at $2. Theoretically, books in the library circulate; but it is notorious that people seldom go to a library for a new serious book. A reader whose habits or tastes would attract him to a new biography, say, wants the volumes on his shelves. If it is really worth the trouble of reading he will almost certainly wish to refer to it again. He cannot trot down to the library for every reference. A reader of such habits or tastes wishes to possess the books in which he is really interested. If he cannot afford to own the book he probably will not read it at all. What circulates from the library, besides fiction, is Taine's English Literature, Macaulay's England, Gibbon's Decline and Fall, Boswell's Johnson.

It is clear consequently that a large part of our new serious literature is automatically canned and moved into cold storage, and so there is a world of pains and expense for nothing!—Saturday Evening Post.

Elephant Most Intelligent.

The elephant is by a long shot the most intelligent animal under man. Some horses know a great deal, some dogs are exceedingly bright, but for real sound sense and all-around long-headedness the elephant heads the list. He is not only bright, he is a deep thinker and profound philosopher, and has been known to do things that apparently required nothing less than human intelligence. Read the books that have to do with animal intelligence, with the wonderful things that our dumb fellow-beings have done, and while you will find much to the credit of the dog, horse and other animals, you will be impressed with the fact that, next to man, the brain-power of the elephant is the greatest among them all.

Sally's Demise

By John Philip Orth

(Copyright, 1912, by Associated Literary Press.)

The Oak Grove farm, one of the best in the county, was owned and run by the widow Baines. The farmers around couldn't criticise her farming, but they shook their heads over the fact that she "dressed up" every afternoon and had callers now and then from the village, six miles away. She also had a top-buggy and silver-plated knives and forks, and she had the best windmill for miles around.

These things were only criticised, but when it was known that the widow had sent her daughter east to a seminary to be educated and polished up there were men and women that stood aghast. Miss Minnie could read, write and cipher, and what more education was needed? She ate with her fork, and she knew how to behave at a party, and what was the use of any more polish?

At eighteen Miss Minnie was back home. She wasn't snobbish, but it was plain that she preferred the village people, and there was hardly a day that calls were not being exchanged. It was this state of affairs that brought young Dick Redfern, the merchant's son, out to the farm. The widow's daughter looked good to him. Folks said it ought to make a match, and no one was surprised, after the lapse of a few months, to hear of the engagement.

"He's just the best fellow in the world," was the girl's assertion after telling her mother the secret.

"I never could have found another such girl," was what young Redfern added as he told his father of the engagement.

The engagement took place in August, and the wedding was set for Thanksgiving day. There's a queer thing about these engagements. As soon as they are made the man in the case wants to be boss. He is as humble as pie up to that time, but at almost a day's notice there is a change. And the change is not altogether in him. The girl sees that he wants to boss the roost, and she resents it, and there are quarrels where before all was serene.

A week after the engagement the widow took on a new hired man. He was a student trying to work his way through college by hiring to farmers during the vacation. He wasn't anybody to become infatuated with, but the girl treated him with more deference than she showed to the other hands, and she also spoke in his praise to Dick. That settled things, or, rather, unsettled them.

"How do you know that he isn't an escaped convict?" demanded Dick.

"That's foolish."

"I don't like his looks."

"Perhaps he will change them."

"You had no right to ask him to sing with you the other evening, as I heard you did."

"Mother found no fault with me."

"But your mother can be easily deceived."

"And you, who have traveled all over the world, can read human faces like a book!"

Of course there was more crispy conversation, and then Mr. Dick Redfern laid down the law in italics. No more singing—no more praising—no more flirting!

"No man shall boss me until after marriage!" was the reply.

Then the young man had either to cuddle down or take his hat and say goodnight. He took his hat and walked forth as stiffly as a crowbar in trousers, but weakened enough at the gate to call over his shoulder:

"When you change your opinion write me!"

There was the situation—a quarrel over nothing, and one of them must do the marrow-bones act to bring back the turtle doves. Both were in the right and both were in the wrong.

At the end of a fortnight Miss Minnie wrote that she thought both of them had acted precipitately and foolishly, and that the student had finished his work and moved on. She didn't crawfish, but she left an opening for Dick to make a call.

Seeing Farmer Collins, their nearest neighbor, hitching up his team, she stamped her letter and ran over to him and asked him please to drop it in the postoffice when he got to town.

"I'll do it, gal," was his hearty reply. "To Dick Redfern, eh? Dick's a purty fine boy, and I was glad when I heard of the match. Oh, yes, I'll mail your letter."

And then—he didn't. He carried it in the breast pocket of his coat and never thought of it again. Miss Minnie looked for Dick that evening, but she looked in vain. The same next day and evening—the same for a week. Then she was both repentant and indignant. In her repentance she went and in her anger she cried out:

"I was a fool to give him a chance to snub me! Dick Redfern can just go to grass!"

And as the letter hadn't reached Dick he was heaving sighs and calling himself an idiot at the same time. At the end of ten days both lovers heard some interesting news. Gossip had it that Dick was to marry Susy Tompkins and Miss Minnie had promised her hand to Milton Swift. There was nothing in it but gossip, but it made two people very uncomfortable. Both would deny the report about themselves, but not about the other. With a little more encouragement gossip went so far as to set the wedding days and prepare the bridal outfits. The old love was surely off in everybody's opinion.

Then came a day when Farmer Collins took down his best coat again to hunt through the pockets in hopes of finding some tobacco for his pipe. All of a sudden his good wife heard him call out:

"Wall, now, by heck!"

"Joshua, what you swearing for?" was asked.

"I am an old fool!"

"That's no news."

"I orter be kicked by a dozen cows!"

"You may get it if you live long 'nuff."

"Two or three weeks ago Minnie Baines asked me to mail a letter in town for her. Here it is. I forgot all about it."

"Who's it writ to?"

"Dick Redfern."

"My stars! Joshua Collins, you have surely cut a dog in two! As I understand it, they had a little spat about a hired man, and Dick got on his high horse. After a week Minnie wrote that letter to make up. Dick never got it, and now they are both going to marry some one else!"

"By heck and by hen!"

"Swearing won't do any good. You have ruined two lives!"

"Here—gimme the letter!" he exclaimed as he snatched for it; and next minute he was out of the door and running for the widow's house. Miss Minnie sat on the veranda alone, and he held up the letter and said:

"I forgot to mail it!"

"Oh, Uncle Josh," she moaned.

"Yes, went right past the postoffice twice, and, like the old fool I am, clean forgot."

"I'm so sorry."

"Would that 'ere letter have made up the fuss between you?"

"I—I think so."

"Then give it here."

"But, Uncle Josh."

"Gimme the letter!"

With it in his hand he ran for his barnyard, and five minutes later was speeding toward the village on the bare back of his old mare. Six miles there and six back. He made it in a little over one hour, and brought with him word that Dick Redfern would be out within an hour. Dick came, and joy and happiness were shedding their radiance around like a 25-cent electric mantle when in walked Uncle Josh to say:

"Them twelve miles on the gallop was too much for Sally, and she's dead! She was twenty-four years old, however, and I'm an old fool, and if you two folks make up and git married your taters shan't cost you a cent for the next year!"

Country Weekers.

Mayor Crump of Memphis, in a recent address on behalf of children's country week associations, said:

"Astonishing is the ignorance of nature shown by these little, pale, lean slum dwellers. One child, whose knowledge of trees and grass and flowers was derived from the early closing city parks, said, as she gazed with delight on a green rural scene:

"'What time does the country shut up?'

"Another child watched a farm hand digging potatoes, and said:

"'Is this where you keep your potatoes, sir? I should think it would be handier to keep them in bags in the cellar?'

"And I know of a third child to whom a farmer offered a superb ripe peach.

"'Let me pluck this peach for you right off the tree,' he said.

"But the child, a little girl, turned up her nose and answered loftily:

"'No, thank you. I never eat them till they're canned.'"

Making Cheese in Olden Days.

Cheese was made by the old-time farmers in the summer on the co-operative plan by which four cattle owners, owning, say, fourteen milch cows, received all the milk night and morning, according to the daily yield of their little herd. Thus given two families having five cows each, one with three and one with one, supposing that the average yield per cow was the same, in two weeks, two owners would make five cheeses each; one would press three, and one only one cheese, but this one would be as good and as large as any of the rest. —"Nobility of the Trades—The Farmer," Charles Winslow Hall, in National Magazine.

"GALLERY GOD" SPOILED IT

Why Maurice Barrymore Conceived Dislike for His "Heart of Maryland" Part.

All the good stories which the late Maurice Barrymore, father of Ethel, Lionel and John Barrymore, told on himself never have been published and probably never will be. Barrymore was in Kansas City just prior to his final collapse and here is a story he told:

Barrymore was Mrs. Leslie Carter's leading support when that celebrated actress appeared in Belasco's production of "The Heart of Maryland." In the big third act Barrymore, the hero, was in the hands of the designing villain, who had caught him off guard. Two rookies bound Barrymore's hands and the villain, left alone with his prey, taunted the hero. It was Barrymore's "business" to squirm and to wail.

"Oh, if my hands were free," he would repeat several times, as he tried vainly to break the rope which held him fast. The villain would approach and snap his fingers right under Barrymore's nose.

"Loosen my hands, you devil!" Barrymore would exclaim.

One night at this great and exciting moment in the scene Barrymore had just finished his dare to the villain to loosen his hands when the traditional gallery god yelled out in sharp, clear voice:

"Why don't you kick him in the shins, Barry; your feet ain't tied."

Barrymore cursed the part from that moment until his dying day.

SLEDS USED IN THE YUKON

Not Constructed Along Lines of Beauty, but for Hard Work They Are Perfection.

The Yukon sled, while not a thing of beauty, is built to stand all kinds of hard wear, or, as the Irishman said, "It will last forever, and after that can be used for firewood." The sled is about eight feet long, is made of any kind of hard wood, lies close to the ground, costs from $10 to $14, and makes a trail sixteen inches in width. Another pattern is known as the basket sleigh, and it is to the Yukon sleigh what a three-masted schooner is to a coal barge. In length it is from eight to fifteen feet, is made of birch, oak or hickory, cuts a trail twenty-two inches in width, costs from $40 to $200, is raised a foot or more from the runners, and, in the best examples, is lashed together with rawhide. The basket sleigh, as its name implies, is fitted with a basket, into which the load is placed, and from the back of the basket a pair of handles project, to be used in guiding the sled on the trail. It often happens that a Yukon sled will be fitted with a home-made basket, in imitation of its more aristocratic brother. In very cold weather wooden runners are best, but in ordinary circumstances steel or brass runners are used.—Wide World Magazine.

Delicate Scales.

In the personal laboratory of Sir William Ramsay, at University college, London, is a new pair of scales so delicately adjusted that they will weigh a seven-millionth part of an ounce. The room is in semi-darkness. So delicate are these wonderful scales that their balance is disturbed by the alteration of temperature caused by the turning on of an electric light at the other end of the room. The operator has to leave them for an hour in darkness—after he has tip-toed from the room so that his footfall should not set up any vibration—and then read them swiftly before any change in the temperature has had time to affect them. The scales, only a few inches long, appears a mere cobweb of glass with its frail supports. It is not made of glass, however, explains Sir William, but of silica, which expands and contracts under the effect of heat far less than glass.

Public Schools.

In antiquity the masses of the people grew up in ignorance of things literary. Public education—the education that exists for the masses of the people—began, practically, with John Calvin's rule in Geneva, from which time popular education had steadily gained ground. The free school system had its beginning in Great Britain, about the year 1780, with Robert Raikes and his Sunday school movement. It was not until 1860, however, that the free public schools began to get itself firmly rooted in the British Isles. In this country from the start the idea of universal education was championed by Jefferson and other leaders among us, and the idea has never ceased to be fundamental with us, as absolutely necessary to the prevention of the liberty on which the government is founded.

Luminous Metal Discovered.

For generations the peasants of Cornwall have handed down a legend that at night there may be seen a faintly luminous metal among the rocks brought from the mines of the county. A British scientist has proved that this story is by no means based on imagination. A specimen of the mineral autunite, which is also found in Wales, was sent to him from Portugal because of its shining character. He finds that it closely resembles artificially prepared salts of uranium, and that its luminosity is due to spontaneous radio-activity. The light it sheds is stronger than that of nitrate of uranium. Upon parting with its water of crystallization the metal loses its luminosity.
